BAY BATTLEGROUND — Richardson Bay swarmed yesterday with bobbing craft, manned by Richardson Bay houseboat dwellers and allies, as they sought to prevent county authorities from seizing vessels that don't conform to county codes. A Coast Guard cutter (right) moves toward a houseboat (far left) which had been boarded by sheriff's deputies. But authorities succeeded only in rescuing the deputies. (See more photos, page 10.)

HOLDS OFF INVADERS

Houseboat Colony Goes To War

By PAT ANGLE and GEORGE NEVIN

An impromptu volunteer navy, recruited from Sausalito's houseboat community, yesterday held off an invading force of sheriff's deputies who sought to remove five substandard houseboats from their Waldo Point berths.

By last night the houseboat forces were claiming total, if temporary, victory against the county and the Coast Guard, which was called to assist in the removal operation when the bay battle escalated.

One boat, marked for demolition by the county and towed to a neutral zone at the Richardson Bay Heliport, was returned to its Gate 5 mooring last night, hours after its owner held off deputies with an eight-inch knife. The other craft involved in the foray remained firmly moored in the middle of Richardson Bay where a makeshift flotilla had halted county attempts to tow it away.

Crewmen of Sausalito's motley fleet — which at the height of the skirmish included a Chinese junk, several rowboats, motorized craft and sailboats and a kayak and a canoe — were jubilant at the results of their first sea encounter.

But the county, although frustrated in its attempts to begin removal of the offending houseboats, managed to take four prisoners, crewmen of the flotilla's flagship, the Trans Love. One man was held in lieu of $6,250 bail on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and interfering with a police officer in the performance of his duties. Three other men were arrested on the latter complaint and each was held in lieu of $625 bail.

Marin County Marine Inspector Richard L. Larson, who commanded the county force from a shore headquarters, declared a temporary moratorium on further county expeditions against the houseboats. He planned to seek advice from the Marin County Board of Supervisors today.

"We expected to have some problems," Larson said of the county's first actual move to abate several of the 30 houseboats which officials have de-

HOUSEBOAT TUG-OF-WAR — The battle was joined yesterday as Russel Grissom's houseboat, a target of the county's houseboat cleanup campaign, rests on a Richardson Bay beach. The tow line at right leads to a county truck which attempted to pull the boat farther ashore. Meanwhile, defenders, using their own line and boat, tried to pull the vessel seaward. The tug-of-war was a stalemate, although the houseboat was moved back to its berth.

New York City Strike Spreading

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sewage treatment plant workers joined a wildcat pension strike by the city's bridge tenders today causing an estimated 1.3 billion gallons of raw sewage to be dumped into the city's surrounding waterways every 24 hours.

Soviet Novelist Out Of Prison

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet authorities have released novelist Andrei D. Sinyavsky from prison 18 months early because he proved to be a model inmate, unofficial literary sources said today.

The sources said he will live in Moscow.

Sinyavsky had served 5 1/2 years of a seven-year sentence imposed for writing "slandering anti-Soviet concoctions." He was convicted along with Yuli Daniel in the famous 1966 trial that came to symbolize the struggle for freedom of expression in the Soviet Union.

treatment centers were shut down as union officials made good on a threat to escalate strike action that Monday resulted in the worst traffic tieup in the city's history.

Jerome Kretschmer, administrator of the city's Environmental Protection Department, said the strike action by the sewage treatment workers would result in pollution of the city's waterways at the astronomical 1.3 billion gallons a day rate.

Also joining the walkout today were stationary firemen at city incinerators and gardeners and foremen at city parks.

The new strike action by city employees came as traffic into the city eased considerably today when many commuters used public transportation to get to their jobs.

By 11 a.m. EDT 8,000 of the unions 122,000 members were off their jobs.

The mushrooming wildcat strike action began Monday with the walkout by bridge tenders to back their demands that the state legislature approve a pension plan that would give many city employees half pay after 20 years service and full pay after 40 years.

The pension plan was approved by the city but needs legislative approval to become effective. The bill on pensions has been referred to committee, in effect killing it.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has indicated he will use National Guard troops if necessary to replace the striking workers.

City sanitationmen did not join in the strike and the city's fresh water system was not affected, officials said.

Mayor John V. Lindsay viewed the main arteries into the city from a helicopter this morning and reported the traffic situation was "much better than it was yesterday."

The unexpected strike by 318 bridge tenders left 25 of the city's 29 vital drawbridges open and inoperable. The strike was supported by about 6,000 other municipal employees.

City officials and army engineers worked throughout Monday night to keep New York City functioning and prevent another tieup that saw tens of thousands of motorists lined bumper-to-bumper. The situation was aggravated by temperatures that rose to 93 degrees — the city's hottest day of the year.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers worked Monday and this morning to close the bridges — a job made harder because many fuses had been removed and operating devices tampered with. Most of the major bridges were in operation today.

Red Threat In U.S. — Hoover

Sees Terrorists, Spies Increasing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has told Congress that Russia still poses the main threat to American security and he says Moscow has encouraged terrorist acts by domestic protest groups to further its goal of overthrowing the U.S. government.

Hoover told a closed door session of a House Appropriations subcommittee that in 1970 "new left and black extremists stepped up their violent and terroristic tactics" while "old line communists revived efforts to influence the American people and communist countries intensified their intelligence operations, targets against the United States."

"The most serious threat to the security of our country is Soviet Russia and its satellites," Hoover said in testimony given March 17 and made public today.

Hoover also warned that "despite its differences with the Soviet Union, Red China continues to regard the United States as the common enemy of the people of the world and its propaganda is designed to stimulate disruption of our society."

Hoover voiced the warnings in support of his budget request for $318.6 million for 1972, which is $44.2 million more than last year and which along with $14 million he got last month in a supplemental appropriation, would allow for 1,036 new agents to bring the FBI agent force to 8,873.

Hoover also announced that the FBI opened six new "foreign liaison posts" during the past year in Lebanon, Venezuela, Denmark, Bolivia, Nicaragua and Israel making a total of 17 such posts "to develop and maintain a close, cooperative relationship with the police and other investigative agencies of the countries which they cover."

Hoover cited the influx of personnel assigned here by Soviet bloc countries—806 officials in July, 1966 compared with 1,172 officials as of March 1, 1971 — and said "a Soviet defector has stated that 70 to 80 per cent of all personnel assigned to Soviet diplomatic establishments work in the intelligence field."

The FBI chief said groups such as the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) agitate among college students with the result that "an unprecedented number of disturbances and incidents of student connected violence erupted during the 1969-70 school year."

As for racial strife, Hoover said "the Black Panther Party continued to dominate the field of black extremism" and he claimed that "acts of violence traced to the Panthers during 1970 have resulted in the deaths of six police officers and the wounding of 22 others," extremist "back into line."

FBI SURVEILLANCE

Hoover Cites 47 Taps, Denies Congress Bugs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The FBI, according to Director J. Edgar Hoover, currently is tapping 47 telephones and has secretly planted at least six microphones for security reasons or to investigate organized crime. None of them, Hoover said, is being used on Congressmen.

The FBI chief provided the information to a closed door House Appropriations subcommittee hearing, "to put the record straight" concerning his increasingly criticized agency. The heavily censored testimony was made public today.

House Democratic leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana charged earlier this year the FBI was bugging congressional telephones. Boggs, however, never produced evidence of his charges.

Hoover cited a newspaper article (Washington Post) which he said raised "suspicion that Sen. Birch Bayh's (D-Ind.) office was bugged during the Judge Clement Haynsworth controversy." Haynsworth's nomination to the Supreme Court was rejected by the Senate last year, with Bayh among the more vocal Haynsworth opponents.

"We, of course, never had any electronic coverage of Senator Bayh or any other senator or congressman," Hoover said. "Furthermore, the charge that the FBI has tapped Central Intelligence Agency phones is absolutely false. At no time in the history of FBI has this ever been done."

"I would like to add, also, we have never tapped a telephone of any congressman or any senator since I have been director of the bureau," said Hoover, the first and only FBI Director.

Hoover said his testimony on FBI electronic surveillance was cleared by Attorney General John N. Mitchell prior to the director's March 17 appearance before the subcommittee.

"We are operating 33 telephone surveillances and four microphone installations in bureau cases in the security field," Hoover reported, and said two additional telephone taps were waiting to be installed.

He said 14 telephone taps and two microphone surveillances were being used for investigation of organized crime and that an additional 12 telephone taps were waiting to be installed.

Space Lab Maneuvers In Orbit, Reds Predict 'Cosmograd' City

MOSCOW (UPI)—Three Soviet cosmonauts flew their space laboratory into a higher orbit Tuesday and science experts predicted it will become the cornerstone of earth's first space colony and an eventual space city named "Cosmograd."

The Salyut orbital laboratory was boosted into the higher orbit to keep it from gradually sinking into the earth's atmosphere and disintegrating. This showed the orbit could be adjusted whenever necessary, space sources said.

The Soyuz 11 cosmonauts who scrambled into Salyut after Monday's linkup performed scientific tasks Tuesday inside the railway car-sized laboratory, the official news agency Tass said.

A few hours later the cosmonauts shifted the huge, 60-foot-long space vehicle into a new orbit with a maximum distance from earth of 164.5 miles and a minimum distance of 148.1 miles—about 10 miles farther from earth than the Monday orbit. The inclination of 51.6 degrees remained the same. The time of orbit increased from 88.2 minutes to 89 minutes.

Diplomatic science experts predicted Salyut may function for as long as a year. They expected Salyut to become the hub of the first space colony, a cluster of manned spacecraft which one day will burgeon into a virtual space city with permanent orbital structures.

One or more manned Soyuz launches are expected in the next few weeks, science sources said.

Broad hints in Soviet writings on orbital stations in general and on Salyut in particular support such conjecture.

The experts think Salyut will be the terminus of a "space train" of several manned Soyuz spacecraft which will ferry cosmonaut-scientists to and from the laboratory.

Soyuz 11 Commander Georgi Dobrovolski and engineers Vladimir Volkov and Viktor Pat-sayev "feel well" and found Salyut's working-living quarters "spacious and comfortable," Tass said.

A Byelorussian physicist, Nikolai Sirota, told Tass in comments praising Salyut: "The first cosmopolis (space house) has been founded."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Draft Rider

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate approved an amendment to the draft bill Monday that would grant exemptions to any sons in a family who has lost an immediate member in the armed forces.

The bill would cover those now serving, as well as potential draftees.

The rider, the first added to the bill to extend the draft for two years, won on a 58 to 9 vote despite the strenuous objections of Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., who is guiding the bill through the Senate.

Before the amendment was passed, Stennis had managed to maneuver his bill unchanged through 17 roll call votes on attempts to amend it.

Present law grants an exemption from the draft only to the sole surviving son in a family.

NEW YORK (UPI) —J.I. Rodale, whose advocacy of organic foods as a basis for good health brought him fame and fortune, collapsed and died Monday while taping the Dick Cavett Show.

In 1942, Rodale founded the magazine, Organic Farming and Gardening, and has since published several books and pe-

Crime Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Attorney General John N. Mitchell told new congressional hearings into organized crime today thieves got away with upwards of $400 million in securities in the United States in 1969 and 1970.

Mitchell said the theft of securities was a growing problem, spurred by a large increase in the volume of trading in securities, a related increase in the number of employees in brokerage houses, and a realization by members of organized crime that there are "low risks and ... high reward in marketing stolen securities."

Justice Department records showed "upwards of $400 million worth" of securities had been stolen and not recovered in 1969 and 1970, Mitchell said. But he said this record gave only part of the picture.

Brawl Erupts

SEOUL (UPI) —A barroom brawl between white and black GIs sent 13 American soldiers to the hospital Monday night, U.S. and Korean officials said today.

The fight broke out in a pub in the Itawon quarter, near the U.S. military headquarters in Seoul, moved outside and expanded into a free-for-all as other GIs from nearby taverns joined in.

A U.S. military spokesman said 13 of the soldiers were treated for minor injuries and the other three remained in the hospital for observation.

COLUMNIST'S ARTICLE

Patton Plan: Quit Army, Rip Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) —An aide to Gen. George S. Patton Jr. says the controversial World War II commander decided to resign from the Army "with a reverberating blast of indignation" at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and other superiors shortly before he was fatally injured in an auto crash in 1945.

Outraged and deeply hurt because he lost command of his beloved Third Army after an outspoken comment at a news conference, the aide said, Patton wanted to cut all his military ties so he could live and speak freely.

Robert S. Allen, who was Patton's chief of combat intelligence and who now is an author and columnist, gave the account in an article written for the June issue of Army Magazine, published by the Association of the United States Army, a private group.

Allen said retirement would have left the 61-year-old West Pointer still subject to military control, so he decided to quit outright. He said Patton also wanted to "strike back" at Eisenhower, who took away his command and rebuked him privately, and at the Army hierarchy he felt had let him down.

"Had he not made up his mind to quit with a reverberating blast of indignation, it is highly unlikely the trip on which the auto accident occurred would have been made," Allen wrote. The columnist said the article was an effort to lay to rest rumors that there was something sinister about Patton's death.

While varying in detail, the rumor generally says there were those who felt Patton's outspoken manner was doing the United States more harm than good. These persons felt "something should happen" to Patton because his war record was too illustrious to have him officially removed from postwar Germany.

"The stories are wholly untrue," Allen said.

Allen said it all started Sept. 22, 1945, when Patton was asked at a news conference why former Nazis were being retained in public office in Bavaria, then administered by Patton's Third Army.

"I don't like Nazis any more than you do," Patton replied in part. "I despise them. In the past three years I did my utmost to kill as many of them as possible. Now we are using them for lack of anyone better until we can get better people."

But he also made an unfortunate comparison, which triggered a storm of protest in the United States:

"The way I see it, this Nazi question is very much like a Democratic and Republican election fight. To get things done in Bavaria, after the virtually complete disorganization and disruption of four years of war, we had to compromise with the Devil a little."

The upshot was that Eisenhower reassigned Patton to the Fifteenth Army—a group engaged primarily in sorting documents to compile histories of the fighting in Europe. Patton felt his reassignment was evidence of a plot, born out of envy, to discredit his war record. He quoted Patton as confiding at dinner to Lt. Gen. Hobart R. Gay, Patton's chief of staff:

"I have given this a great deal of thought. I am going to resign from the Army. Quit outright. That's the only way I can be free to live my life." Allen said Patton later confirmed his intention to Gay, asserting that "I'm going to do it with a statement that will be remembered a long time. If it doesn't make big headlines, I'll be surprised."

The columnist said the strain of his decision made Patton extremely nervous, and Gay suggested a pheasant hunting trip to take the general's mind off the subject. He said Patton was enthusiastic and Gay arranged to have a car pick them up next morning.

The driver was Horace L. Woodring, a 20-year-old private who now lives in Union Lake, Mich. There was ground haze, but little traffic.

Allen quotes Woodring as saying a 2 1/2-ton truck approaching Patton's car turned suddenly across the highway toward a side road. Patton's sedan was going too fast to stop and hit the truck, and Patton's head struck a metal part of the partition between the front and back seats. No one else was injured.

Patton remained conscious, Allen said, but told Gay: "What a hell of a way to die. I think I'm paralyzed. I can't move my arm. Rub it, will you?" He died 12 days later in a military hospital at Heidelberg of a fractured neck, spinal and internal injuries and pneumonia.

On Christmas Eve, 1945, Patton was buried among the men he had led in the Battle of the Bulge—a year to the day after he had broken the back of Hitler's surprise panzer attack and relieved Bastogne.

It was not, Allen said, the way Patton wanted to die. Eight months earlier he had remarked to an aide: "The best end for an old campaigner is a bullet at the last minute of the last battle."

Violation Doubted In Mid-Air Collision

DUARTE, Calif. (UPI) —Neither pilot may have been at fault when an Air West DC9 jetliner and a Marine fighter collided at 12,000 feet, killing 50 persons, a federal investigator said Monday.

George Baker, head of a National Transportation Safety Board team, said the planes "may have collided without any violation" of flying rules.

But the sole survivor of Sunday's collision, a Marine radar man, said the commercial airliner with 49 persons aboard hit his F4 Phantom jet.

Lt. Christopher E. Shiess, 24, Salem Ore., copilot of the fighter bomber, said he and the pilot sighted the DC9 seconds before the collision.

As Shiess spoke at a news conference, helicopters brought the bodies of the victims, including a 3-week-old infant, from the side of a rugged mountain 40 miles from downtown Los Angeles.

"After impact—after the airliner hit us—we tumbled violently four or five times," Shiess said.

"Are you saying that the airliner hit you?" a news man asked.

"That is correct," Shiess replied.

However the sheriff's office said witnesses to the crash told of the military jet striking the DC9. A sheriff's spokesman said witnesses, contrary to Shiess' statement, reported the Phantom fighter hit the airliner, ripping a hole in its side through which "articles" streamed out.

Shiess, who parachuted to safety seconds after the collision, said he would not cite specifics of the accident pending the outcome of a military investigation.

Heroin Hunt Planned For Fire Flies

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Tiny lightning bugs are being trained to turn on to heroin, and the government is betting $29,012 this will help police nab users and pushers.

"The first tests have proved successful," Richard W. Velde, associate administrator of the Law Enforcement Assistance Agency, told Congress.

Velde's agency has a $29,012 contract with Huntington Laboratories, aimed at developing heroin-sensitive fireflies which will light up when they encounter a police suspect with heroin on his person. The test involves a miniature version of the common firefly.

Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., said skeptically his recollection was that lightning bugs operated only in summer. Velde conceded their "bioluminescent agent" wasn't good in cold weather.

"We expect it to work very well in places like Miami and on the Mexican border," he said. "On the Canadian border at certain times of the year we will have to use other detecting devices."

So far the insect narcotic agents are being tested by police in New York City, Velde reported in testimony published today. The nature or extent of the New York test was not revealed.

"You have in effect some trained insects that are very much like lightning bugs," he explained. "They are extremely sensitive to certain chemical compounds. We are now training insects to be sensitive to heroin." Squad cars or foot patrolmen could carry the bugs for personal confrontations with suspected drug carriers. If they light up, the cops crack down.

Senate Tests Claim On Lockheed Failure

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Senate opponents claimed today that a study exists which punches holes in Treasury Secretary John B. Connally's bleak picture of what will happen to the nation's economy if Congress lets the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. go bankrupt.

They said the study comes from a biased source—the McDonnell Douglas Corp., one of Lockheed's two competitors—but they insisted its conclusion was valid.

The conclusion is that Lockheed's collapse actually would generate more American jobs than would be lost if Lockheed were allowed to go into bankruptcy, with court-appointed trustees taking over management of the firm.

The study reasons that with Lockheed's L-1011 Tristar Airbus no longer in the picture, the American and world aviation markets would turn to the only existing comparable plane, McDonnell-Douglas' DC10.

Since the DC10 is powered by an American-made General Electric Co. engine while the Tristar is to be powered by a British-made Rolls-Royce jet, the study asserts, the demise of the Airbus would create American jobs.

With Connally back on the witness stand before the Senate Banking Committee for a second day today, the economics of McDonnell-Douglas' argument were expected to be explored closely.

Connally wants Congress to pass a bill guaranteeing repayment of $250 million in bank loans for Lockheed to save the firm and to allow the Tristar project to go forth.

He defends Lockheed's decision to stick to its plan to power the plane with a Rolls-Royce engine rather than an American-made one, which Lockheed says would add $100 million to its costs.

Connally argued Monday Lockheed probably would sell a lot more of its Tristars to Britain and British Commonwealth countries if the plane had a made-in-Britain engine. Otherwise the foreign market would go chiefly to a planned European Airbus and not to the DC10, he argues. Airplanes are a major American export.

The Treasury secretary argued that 60,000 American jobs would go down the drain if Congress refuses to come to Lockheed's rescue. He said the decision must be made within 40 days—faster than Congress usually takes to embark upon so major and unprecedented a course.

He told the senators that fall victim to U.S. economy would fall victim to "deep-seated fears" if Lockheed were permitted to collapse and those fears, in turn, would "thwart" the recovery from the 1970 recession.

Two GIs Killed During Grenade Missile Attack

SAIGON (UPI) —Two American GIs were killed and four wounded in fighting near a U.S. military base below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) where South Vietnamese troops have killed 330 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in the past four days, military spokesmen said today.

The U.S. Command said a unit of the 1st Brigade, 5th U.S. Infantry Division (Mechanized) was attacked Monday with rocket-propelled grenade and rifle fire two miles south of the DMZ and six miles north of Cam Lo.

American spokesmen said meanwhile that Communist gunners had shot down a U.S. helicopter on Phu Quoc Island, 30 miles off the South Vietnamese coast in the Gulf of Thailand. One crewman was wounded.

Phu Quoc is the site of South Vietnam's largest prisoner of war camp and although Communist guerrillas operate among hills on the island, it is seldom considered a part of the war zone.

At least six South Vietnamese troops were killed and 52 wounded in heavy fighting Saturday and Sunday, military sources said.

Miracle Coating Replaces House Paint for 15 Years

Los Angeles, Calif.

Another boon of the space age has been accomplished for the home owner... an exterior wall coating so tough and durable that it is guaranteed to totally eliminate exterior house painting for over 15 years. This remarkable textured coating is asbestos KENITEX.

The Atomic Energy Commission has used KENITEX texture Coating for several years at Los Alamos, New Mexico, atomic plant. Thousands of gallons of this remarkable exterior surfacing have been applied to provide weatherproofing and beauty, far outlasting ordinary paint.

Homes and Guided Missiles Unique among KENITEX applications is the use of guided missiles where its insulating properties shield the missile from extreme temperatures. KENITEX obtains these qualities from its basic components of asbestos, mica and perlite, which are noted for their insulation and durability.

Over 1,000,000 KENITEX applications on homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout the world, 10,000 in Southern California alone, remain in perfect condition after more than 15 years exposure in all weather extremes.

The Veterans' Administration, Sausalito, in Los Angeles, has applied KENITEX to the exteriors of their buildings. The Kenitex coating is applied in one quick spray application without muss, fuss or odor—at a thickness 20 times that of ordinary paint. It fills holes, cracks and hides building defects, yet does not conceal the original architectural lines.

Shot From a Gun KENITEX is guaranteed for 15 years against chipping, flaking or peeling... it is extremely flexible and withstands all normal building expansion and contraction. Actually, "Shot from a Gun" KENITEX fuses to the sidewalls in a variety of beautiful decorator colors.

Free Estimates Local applications of this remarkable coating are made by the Golden Gate Builders Inc., licensed and approved applicators. Cost is surprisingly low—convenient terms can be arranged. $155,000 For Marin City Road Is Tabled; Information Asked Marin County supervisors this morning refused to allocate $155,000 for a new access road for Marin City until they get more information on whether the money can be more effectively used in other improvements.

Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director of the Marin Redevelopment Agency, said the $155,000 for a new road from Guy Circle in Marin City to Tamalpais Valley is needed as the county's biggest building boom, added Baar. "I can't see putting in a road when the land isn't even salable."

"Certainly the road would be an advantage but it is not the key to development," said Supervisor Chairman Louis H. Baar. The 40 acres of open land in Marin City has remained vacant for 20 years, during the county's biggest building boom, added Baar. "I can't see putting in a road when the land isn't even salable."

Shepherd replied that the land is salable, and would be even more marketable if the road goes in.

Supervisor Michael Wornum wanted to know whether the $155,000 can be used for a marina green or a bicycle path in front of Marin City, and this be applied as the county's local contribution to get the federal loan for redevelopment.

Supervisors John F. McInnis, Arnold M. Baptiste and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. said they want other choices explored before a decision is made on the second road for Marin City.

Even if the road is to be built, private properties which will benefit from the road should also chip in their share of the cost, said McInnis.

Supervisors asked Shepherd to come back with a concise report on what the county liabilities are in Marin City, and what the assets are in open land that can be sold to developers.

Shepherd said the redevelopment agency would the federal government $1.3 million for the original loan made in 1963, and if the redevelopment is not completed, the county could be left holding the bag on the $1.3 million debt.

Of the 180 acres in the Marin City redevelopment area, only 40 acres remain undeveloped, Shepherd reported. He said the plan is to complete the development of that open area in two years with 350 new units.

Opposition To Crime Report

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Board of Supervisors took a stand Monday against a report urging the relaxation of laws against non-victim crimes.

Supervisors sent a resolution to their own committee for a hearing and decision that would "oppose and reject" recommendations by the San Francisco Committee on Crime, which was appointed by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto.

The mayor's committee had urged permission of "discreet, private, off-street" prostitution and private, non-commercial gambling.

It also called for the repeal of laws against private homosexual acts by consenting adults.

Tam Drive Contract Is Awarded

Reconstruction of Tamalpais Drive in Corte Madera was awarded to Ghilotti Bros. of San Rafael yesterday by the town council.

The contract, which totals about $126,000, is the lowest of several choices submitted by the firm. It provides for reconstruction, the cheapest means of landscaping and no lighting or special crosswalks.

According to Town Mgr. Ronald E. Bartels, the council agreed to approach Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install overhead lighting.

If the utility does it, he said, the cost will be about $21,000 as compared with an estimate of $42,000 from Ghilotti.

In related action, the council also approved a four month time extension to PG&E and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph for undergrounding of power lines along the street.

The extension runs the time period to January. It does not, however, affect the time limit residents have to underground their connections.

Completion of the project is expected within a year.

Funds To Be Asked For Police Program

The Corte Madera Town Council last night approved applying for about $5,500 in state funds for a police public relations program.

The program, developed by Sgt. Charles H. Rester, is a series of slide shows on drug abuse, home protection and department organization and operation.

The state funds, if approved by the California Council on Criminal Justice, will be used to continue operation of the series and to purchase camera equipment, materials and projector, among other items.

It will be matched with about $2,250 of town funds in "in kind services," meaning compensatory time-off to officers for putting on the shows.

Called the Police Information Guidance Show (PIGS), the series already has been tested on service clubs, homeowners associations and student groups.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

DONATION — Accepted a $70 donation from the town's Tennis Fund Tournament Committee and designated the funds for a new tennis court.

HEARING — Set July 6 for a public hearing on an assessment split in the Sausalito Street Assessment District.

SIGNS — Noted a judgment by Marin Superior Court requiring H. Koch and Sons to remove their illegal signs or bring them into conformity within six months. The signs have been a controversy for months.

RECREATION — Approved a summer playground program and expansion of the preschool fee supported program recommended by the parks and recreation commission.

REZONING — Carried over to the June 21 meeting, a rezoning request from landowners along the recently annexed portion of Meadowsweet Drive. Landowners are asking that the area be rezoned from single family residential to multiple family use.

BICYCLE PATHS — Heard a report from the town's bicycle path committee that 75 per cent of the town's proposed bicycle path routes can be designated by striping along existing roads.

SEWER LINES — Acting as the board of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, introduced an ordinance increasing the fees charged for sewer line hook-ups. The amount, which stands at $150, will be increased to $275. The fee schedule has not been changed since 1962.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to its next meeting June 21.

Jurors Against Death Penalty Win A Round

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A state law allowing persons unalterably opposed to the death penalty to be excluded from murder trial juries was upheld Monday in Superior Court. Defense attorneys contended that prospective jurors questioned about their feelings on capital punishment became "guilt oriented."

Judge Arthur L. Alarcon allowed that their presentation was "interesting and academic," but not "persuasive."

The two attorneys, John W. Miner and Gerald J. Levie, said after the ruling they expect the issue ultimately will be decided by the U.S. Supreme Court.

They are representing Carlos Sandoval Jr., 40, and Leonard Cuellar, 38, both accused of robbery and murder in the shooting of a cleaning firm owner.

Pleads Innocent To Fraud Count

Donald Ray Turner, 21, of Marin City, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to two charges of credit card fraud.

Preliminary hearing was set for next Tuesday.

Turner was arrested May 6 by San Rafael police who said Turner attempted to purchase auto tires at a San Rafael service station using a stolen credit card.

Kean Winner Of AP Prize

Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean of San Rafael has received first prize in the annual California Associated Press spot news contest, AP officials announced today.

The picture shows San Quentin prisoner James D. McClain aiming a gun at the head of Judge Harold J. Haley and holds the judge, still in his judicial robes, with a ummtgun tied around his neck. The judge and three other persons died a few minutes later in an outburst of gunfire.

The award carries a $100 cash prize to be presented at the annual AP News Executives Council dinner June 17 in Palo Alto.

Dist. Supt. Charles A. McCully said trustees are concerned about the effect of the Point Reyes National Seashore and agricultural preserves on tax revenue.

Amato Quits Lagunitas For County

Joseph Amato, superintendent of the Lagunitas School District, last night resigned to accept a job with the Marin County Schools Office.

Amato, 50, who has been superintendent of the small school district since last July, will become the director of business services with the county in July. The position, approved last night by the county board, pays $20,253 per year. Amato is making $17,000 per year with the Lagunitas district.

In resigning from his current position, Amato had to receive approval from the board to break a two-year contract.

Following the approval, a phone call was placed to the county board of education informing them of the Lagunitas board's action. The county board then proceeded with hiring him.

According to Byron W. Mauzy, assistant superintendent of schools with the county, Amato was approached last month with the job offer after all outside applicants for the position had been rejected.

The job, currently performed as extra duty by Mauzy, involves budget preparation and related matters.

Amato's resignation was accepted unanimously by the board.

COLONY

clared to be unsanitary nuisances. "But we didn't expect a naval war," he added.

Meanwhile, San Anselmo attorney Carl B. Shapiro, who represents the houseboat owners, said he would seek a restraining order to prevent further raids and houseboat owners planned to hold a rock benefit in support of their cause at 7 p.m. tomorrow on the ferryboat Oakland at Gate 5.

Houseboat dwellers and county officials have fought a running battle over the floating homes for the past two years. Points of conflict have included houseboat encroachment on county-owned street rights-of-way in the bay, discharge of raw sewage and the dilapidated condition of some of the vessels.

Yesterday's skirmish resulted from the first county attempt to abate nonconforming boats under Marin's houseboat ordinances which sets standards for vessels similar to those applied to mobile homes. Larson said some 30 boats currently do not conform. But only five of those — occupied by skippers the inspector said had refused to bring their craft up to county standards or remove them from county jurisdiction — were slated for removal yesterday.

The county's search and destroy mission began quietly enough on an 11:30 a.m. high tide. A small Boston whaler manned by three deputy sheriffs and two sailors hired by the county glided into Gate 5 toward its first target — a 20-foot converted lifeboat hull.

The surprise attack met with no resistance as deputies quickly plucked the houseboat — owned by artist Russell Grissom — from its berth, then sped with it toward open water. Destination was the demilitarized area of the heliport where the craft was to be impounded for 48 hours, then demolished.

The 24-year-old Grissom, who had gone to a neighbor's boat to borrow money for his breakfast cereal, returned minutes later to find his home gone. He stood angrily on the dock after another neighbor told him: "Hey, man, the deputies just ripped off your houseboat."

Despite engine trouble in the towboat and a minor confrontation with sticky bay mud, the county task force managed to beach Grissom's boat just north of the heliport. But efforts bogged down at that point, when the towboat stalled and the county found it necessary to call for a reinforcement vessel.

Members of the houseboat community, who at first had thought the morning foray by deputies was a surprise narcotics raid, began arriving at the heliport by land and sea in support of Grissom who dejectedly watched the operation from shore.

The houseboat denizens came armed with sharp words against the county's move on their neighbor's home. "This is worse than Germany," one man cried. Others had insulting remarks for county supervisors, Larson, the deputies and the power structure in general.

Then, apparently spurred into action by the sight of his houseboat aground in the mud, Grissom leapt aboard the vessel. He produced what appeared to be an oriental ceremonial knife and began to cut the makeshift mooring holding the craft. For a brief time, when it appeared he would succeed in the rescue, the bay rang with shouts of victory and rebel yells.

The bloodless conflict took a briefly ominous turn when two deputies drew their guns on Grissom and one officer threatened to shoot if the artist did not stop in his attempts to sever the restraining line. Grissom, brandishing the knife at the deputies, challenged him to "go ahead and shoot me."

But the threat of serious violence ended quickly as the law enforcement officers holstered their guns and drew nightsticks to use in protecting the county's booty.

Meanwhile, deputies had brought to the scene another vessel, a decoy, which they indicated would be used to complete the interrupted maneuvers against the houseboats. But the county had a third craft secreted at Clipper Yacht Harbor which quietly began a second towaway mission, removal of a houseboat moored out in the bay.

Word of the maneuver spread quickly and by 2:30 p.m. the naval engagement was on in earnest, as boats of every description sought to thwart the county's efforts. Although the county forces managed to land two deputies on the offending green houseboat, other craft surrounded the vessel and still others chased the county's second whaler into a hasty retreat.

The county called for Coast Guard assistance as the two deputies remained stranded in the middle of the hostile houseboat forces and the towaway boat was forced farther and farther out into the bay.

A Coast Guard cutter, dispatched from San Francisco, warily circled the houseboat, known as Joe's Camel, and its determined band of defenders, then removed the two deputies from their precarious perch.

Like elephants surrounding a wounded companion, the makeshift fleet inserted itself between the houseboat and the cutter each time the Coast Guard vessel closed in.

Taunts and cheers greeted each maneuver. "Go back to Vietnam," some shouted. "You've got your homes, leave us ours," others said.

Repulsed by the display of solidarity, the cutter withdrew to the whoops and cheers of houseboaters. But it was only a temporary retreat, and soon it returned with a second cutter, blue lights flashing on their masts.

The battle grew more spirited as one Coast Guard boat stood by while the other made a last attempt to secure a line to Joe's Camel and complete the tow. The boat charged in, but again was driven back by the bobbing, weaving flotilla of dinghies, motorboats and sailboats.

Tempers rose as the cutter collided with two small rowboats, sending occupants diving into the water.

Outmanned and outmaneu-vered by the numerous small boats, the cutters were unable to approach the offending houseboat. They did, however, pursue and capture the tugboat Translove after crewmen brandished gaffs in an attempt to keep the Coast Guard at bay.

Arrested were Gregory Barclay Corben, 26, of Gate 6, on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and interfering with a police officer. Also held were George Alan Bonney, 24, of 20 Lower Alcatraz Place, Mill Valley, Dean Puhealski, 26, of 260 Canal Street, San Rafael, and Joseph Edwin Nunn, 23, of no known address. All were to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

After more than two hours, the Coast Guard boats withdrew and jubilant residents celebrated with beer and jugs of red wine.

Grissom last night held a small celebration aboard his houseboat, back at the exact location from which it had been removed 12 hours earlier, and declared his intention to bring the craft up to county standards.

He said his boat had drifted away from the heliport beach and was towed back to Gate 5 by friends.

Voting Is Light In S. Sonoma

Voting in Southern Sonoma got off to a slow start today in the Petaluma Municipal election.

Workers at the Petaluma City Hall precinct said that 41 votes out of 300 registered voters had been cast by 10:30 a.m. At the Petaluma School Administration Building, 33 of 300 votes had been counted while at McDowell School in East Petaluma, 27 out of 487 votes had been recorded.

Voting was even lighter in Rohnert Park and Cotati where residents went to the polls only a week ago to approve a tax rate increase for the Cotati school district. At John Reed School in Rohnert Park, 14 of 700 ballots had been cast and at Cotati School, 30 out of 1,020 had been recorded.

Southern Sonomans will elect two representatives to the Petaluma Board of Education and two to the Petaluma Hospital district while Petaluma residents will also elect four city councilmen and decide on a $2 million sewer bond issue.

Tam Board Told It Is Watched

A Larkspur man last night told the Tamalpais High School District board that he and several other residents had banded together "to look into" operation of the district.

Vaughn Marker, who has been an outspoken critic of district spending and policies, told the board his group planned to investigate rumors and make the results public.

He also took time to criticize Redwood High School in Larkspur and its principal, Donald Kreps, but was cut off by the board which said his accusations against Kreps could be considered charges.

He also criticized the district sponsored trips to Mexico for Spanish and on-location students, the amount of "release time" granted teachers and the failure of encouraging "good citizenship" in students.

Marker said he and his group would be reporting periodically to the board.

Tamalpais High School Trustees Also:

BID — Awarded a $88,774 contract to Page Construction Co. for remodeling projects at Redwood High School.

PROPERTY TAX — Tabled action on a recommendation that the board formally oppose the proposed state-wide property tax after trustees expressed fears that to do so might upset some legislators thus compromising a bill to exempt the district from a unification election next year.

GYMNASIUM — Named the Tamalpais High School gymnasium after George Gustafson, a long-time faculty member retiring this year.

JUVENILE HALL — Supported retention of the preplacement center at Marin Juvenile Hall. The center has been recommended for closing by the county administrator's office.

SETTLEMENT — Authorized payment of $3,622 to Crowford and Banning Architects of San Rafael as a settlement for costs incurred by the firm during the Speedspace Corp. controversy.

SALARIES — Accepted a salary proposal from the Tamalpais Administrator's Association which will base its pay increase on the amount awarded teachers.

RELEASE TIME — Approved release time of two periods per day for two Sir Francis Drake High School teachers to work on planning school decentralization.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned

Against Dams In Earth Fault Areas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A report from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration said today dams should not be built near active earth faults because the weight of water behind the dams can increase earthquake danger.

The report said a study of more than 10,000 earthquakes which have occurred at Hoover Dam made it clear they were related to the water's weight because no quakes were reported there for 15 years before the dam was built.

FLAG DAY RITES AT 2:15 P.M.

Flag Day ceremonies in San Rafael will be at 2:15 p.m. Sunday not at 2:45 p.m. as reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

The place is unchanged, the Magnolia Terrace of the Elks Club at 1312 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

The observance is being sponsored by the San Rafael Elks Lodge, the Wilkins Post 37 of the American Legion and Tamalpais Post 72 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, according to John G. Buresh, committee chairman.

Economists Poll Shows Optimism On U.S. Economy

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Despite an unclear international monetary picture, rising interest rates, and continuing high unemployment, Western economists still view the national economic outlook with optimism.

A survey of 12 leading economists and economic analysts who make up the economic advisory board for the Western business-financial newsweekly, California Business, almost unanimously indicate the national economy is continuing to show a growth trend headed moderately upward.

The lone dissenter was more bullish than the rest of the group, seeing the economy moving slightly faster than that and adding it's not growing at full speed yet.

Harold Buma, vice president and head economist at Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco, the maverick on the board this time, says his outlook for the year is "still very optimistic."

Board Refuses Charges By Tam Parents Of Retarded Children

A multitude of charges brought by parents against two Tamalpais High School District teachers were dismissed last night by the district board which said the accusations were without basis.

Reading from a prepared statement, board president David D. Ring said the board found "insufficient basis upon which to take action against the teachers and other staff members in the special education program."

The action followed a 45-minute closed session — one of several held since the year-long controversy became more intense last month.

Parents, who were not permitted to address the board last night, called the board's statement a "whitewash."

At earlier meetings, about 20 parents whose mentally retarded children attend the special program at Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley charged that the program is badly out of date. They also charged that two teachers — Ruth A. Sluser and Krieg S. Vezie — were frequently absent from their classrooms, showed little concern for the students and were inept at their jobs.

They had urged the teachers be transferred to other duties and the program be revamped to provide greater integration of mentally retarded students into regular school programs.

Such action, they said, would eliminate the current situation in which their children are being "treated as outcasts" by other students and some teachers.

Ring said in his statement that the board realizes the program is in need of change and assured parents those changes would be made.

He recommended parents and teachers sit down with a "facilitator" to iron out their problems and "communicate their honest feelings..."

The board directed Raymond J. Bell, principal of Tamalpais High, to begin such meetings prior to a summer workshop aimed at upgrading the program.

Distressed at the board's refusal to further consider the matter and its subsequent action referring it to Bell, parent leader E. Allan Arnold of Mill Valley criticized the board for not informing parents how the teachers had answered the charges.

Tricia And Ed To Pinch Pennies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tricia Nixon and Edward Finch Cox expect to live on his $60-a-week salary after their wedding, according to the groom-to-be.

Cox, 24, who will marry Miss Nixon at the White House Saturday, reported for work Monday at the office of U.S. Attorney Whitney North Seymour. He is one of 40 Harvard law students working during the summer months at the U.S. attorney's office for the southern district here.

Asked by newsmen if he could support Miss Nixon on his student-assistant's salary, Cox said, "I expect to."

Cox will work primarily with assistant U.S. attorney Edward Shaw on tax evasion cases.

Volkswagen announces a new kind of Volkswagen. Big.

Who'd ever believe it?

A Volkswagen that's big.

And looks like a regular car.

And has four big doors.

And more room and comfort than you've ever seen in a Volkswagen.

And more power and acceleration. From the most powerful air-cooled engine we've ever built.

And more features as standard equipment than you'd ever expect in a big car: Like an automatic transmission. Radial tires. Front disc brakes. Electronic fuel injection. Rear-window defroster. And more.

So, after all these years, now you can buy a big car as good as our little car.

The new 411 Volkswagen 4-Door sedan.

Priced with our usual Volkswagen frugality.

You know what?

You just ran out of excuses for not buying a Volkswagen.

Stand By At Mission Control They're Cutting Wedding Cake

WASHINGTON — The one thing you can say about CBS News is that it always goes with the experts. When Neil Armstrong and his crew took off for the moon, they hired Wally Schirra to sit next to Walter Cronkite and provide an astronaut's knowledge of what was happening.

Last week CBS announced it had hired Lynda Bird Johnson Robb to handle the color commentary for Tricia Nixon's wedding. At the same time the broadcasting company also signed up Miss Betty Crocker to do the commentary on the wedding cake.

The decision was made after the controversy over the baking of the cake became the major issue of the wedding and dwarfed the actual marriage ceremony.

Miss Crocker will be seated next to Walter Cronkite during the nuptials.

"GOOD EVENING. This is Walter Cronkite and seated next to me at Mission Control is Betty Crocker. We are now waiting word if Tricia Nixon and Eddie Cox completed the first part of their mission, which was to get married. As you know, the couple has been blacked out on the dark side of the White House, and all we can do is sit here and hope and pray everything will turn out all right. Betty, after the couple completes the marriage vows, what will be the next step?"

"Betty, we have in our studio a seven-foot replica of the wedding cake. Would you explain to the audience what problems Tricia and Eddie will have to contend with?"

"Well, Walter, as you can see, the wedding cake is very high, weighs 350 pounds, and has four tiers of pound cake and two dummy tiers of cardboard. The trick here is for Tricia and Eddie to cut into the pound cake without disturbing the dummy tiers. If Tricia were to miscalculate by a quarter of an inch and cut into the dummy tiers, the whole cake could fall down, and people would have to eat it off the floor."

"THAT'S SOMETHING I imagine Tricia and Eddie don't even want to think about, Betty. What are the other hazards they face in this crucial moment of the wedding?"

"Walter, the wedding cake has obviously been tested in rehearsal, but no one is quite sure what will happen when the couple actually cuts into the real one. Some experts predict that the inside will ooze out as soon as the crust is penetrated."

"Could this oozing be fatal, Betty?"

"No, Walter, because there is a back up system for just such an eventuality. If the cake started to ooze, the White House staff would go on red alert, and the guests would be handed soup plates instead of flat plates for the serving of the cake."

"BETTY, WE HAVE heard so much lately about the instability of the wedding cake. Do you think these reports have been exaggerated?"

"Yes I do, Walter. Many different recipes were tried before the National Cake Agency arrived at this particular model."

"Now, when you are dealing with something as unknown as a wedding cake, you're bound to have different opinions as to what is the best type. You may have to sacrifice egg yolks for weight or butter for budgetary reasons. But the important thing is: Does the cake work? Will it serve the function for which it was constructed? If it does, this may be a big breakthrough in the baking industry and one that every American can be proud of."

"And what if for some unforeseeable reason it doesn't work, Betty?"

"Then I think for the safety of the guests they would have to abort the wedding."

VICTORY IS OURS

Poised to defend his houseboat home, artist Russel Grissom stands on its bow (right) to confront sheriff's deputies at the heliport on Richardson Bay. The confrontation took place yesterday as the county sought to remove from the bay houseboats that don't conform to county codes. Grissom's houseboat was beached by authorities but it was back in the bay today. (See story, more photos, page one.)

Fine, Probation For Stink Bomb Tossing

Ricardo Garcia, 38, of San Francisco was fined $150 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for throwing a stink bomb at the Independent-Journal building in San Rafael last October.

Judge Robert A. Smallman also placed Garcia on probation for one year.

Garcia pleaded guilty yesterday to one of two counts to which he earlier had pleaded innocent. Following his plea, the second count — depositing a nauseous substance on private property — was dismissed at the request of the district attorney's office.

The count to which Garcia pleaded guilty — throwing a nauseous substance at a place of business — carries a mandatory three-month jail sentence, but such mandatory sentences are often, as in this case, avoided by placing the guilty person on probation, according to Deputy Dist. Atty. Vernon F. Smith.

Garcia, a member of Teamsters Local 85 of San Francisco, admitted throwing a Christmas ornament filled with a foul-smelling liquid onto the roof of the I-J building Oct. 26.

The charge that was dismissed accused him of spraying a tree with a nauseous material the next day.

The stink bomb attack came during a wave of harassment of Marin County businesses last fall.

Several Marin restaurants and stores were victims of stinkbombs, but Garcia was the only person arrested.

Garcia's union was cited in October by the National Labor Relations Board which accused

KERSPLASH — A houseboat colony defender climbs from the chilly waters of Richardson Bay after the boat in which he was riding collided with a Coast Guard cutter. The collision occurred at a time of rising tempers and maximum confusion during yesterday's skirmish.

BATTLE PARTICIPANTS — Marin County Marine Inspector Richard L. Larson (right), who commanded the county force which invaded the Richardson Bay houseboat colony yesterday, speaks to embattled houseboat dweller Russel Grissom, who doesn't seem to be listening.

WE'RE SURROUNDED — A flotilla of hastily assembled craft encircles a Richardson Bay houseboat — second target of the county's towaway efforts yesterday.

The swarm of small craft kept away the officials seeking to seize the houseboat and destroy it.

Mariner 9 Is Due A Second Course Change

PASADENA, Calif. (UPD)—A 50-mile error in the 247-million-mile voyage of America's Mariner 9 spacecraft will necessitate a second course change in the martian probe.

Controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here found the error Monday after checking the figures of a midcourse maneuver executed Friday.

"The first midcourse maneuver put us at an estimated orbit 800 miles high at the lowest point," a spokesman said. "We are aiming for 750 miles, so we'll probably have to do another course change in October or November."

The rocket engine aboard Mariner 9 has enough fuel to fire five times—twice for course changes en route to Mars, one to slow the craft so it will be captured by Martian gravity, and twice to jockey it into orbit.

Chemical Is Held Cause Of Blaze

The blaze that destroyed the Duracite Manufacturing Co. in San Rafael was caused by a chemical reaction of two substances used in the plant's process, Fire Marshall Kenneth Mazza said today.

After investigating the $145,000 fire, Mazza said it was started by a combination of methyl-ethyl-ketone-peroxide and a plastic resin used by Duracite.

"It's the only probable cause. There's no electrical wiring or heating in the area where it started," Mazza said.

The fire marshal also based his conclusion on a similar fire at the plant recently that was extinguished by employees.

"These two mixtures can react causing a fire. The last fire they had, workers had put out the set-ups for the next day's work and accidentally spilled some of one mixture into the other. But the fire didn't start for about 30 minutes — a delayed reaction kind of chemical fire," Mazza said.

Employees regularly put out the next day's chemicals the night before, according to the fire marshal.

The blaze was fed by exploding drums of acetone solvent and quantities of resin that Duracite used in manufacturing imitation marble sinks.

Mazza was assisted in his investigation by other department officials.

Strawberry Apartment Project Design Praised

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night complimented the developer of a 334-unit apartment project in Strawberry for a superior design but expressed concern over the high density of the project.

Planning aide Jeanne T. McLean said the project, to be built by Seaport Development Co. of Sausalito above Highway 101, is out of city jurisdiction but was referred to Tiburon by the Marin County Planning Department as a courtesy.

Commissioners, according to Mrs. McLean, complimented Seaport for preservation of open space — 17 out of 24 acres will remain open — concealed parking and a minimum of cut and fill for roads and building sites.

At the same time, however, they expressed concern over the density of 13.9 dwelling units per acre.

The commission's comments will be forwarded to the county planning commission, Mrs. McLean said.

Several other items of business, including the annual election of chairman and vice chairman, were postponed until the next meeting June 21, she said.

Summer Recreation Plan For Fairfax

Fairfax Parks and Recreation Department has announced its summer recreation program for local residents and non-residents. Four sessions of day camps now through Aug. 6, plus organized sports activities highlight the program.

The sign-up period ends Saturday. Information may be obtained through the parks and recreation department.

Justice Burger Has Physical Check Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, 63, is in Bethesda Naval Hospital for a routine physical check-up, a Supreme Court spokesman said today.

Burger, whose only complaint has been a chronic back ailment, entered the hospital Monday night, and is scheduled to be released Wednesday.

$10,000 Is Asked For Injured Boy

A $10,000 suit was filed yesterday in Marin Superior Court against the city of San Rafael in behalf of a 5-year-old boy who was injured in Gerstle Park last August.

According to the suit filed by Madeline Testa of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, mother of Michael E. Giazon, the boy was struck and run over by a San Rafael-owned truck-trailer driven by a city parks department employee last Aug. 18.

Michael suffered "severe and grievous bodily injury, shock and injury to his nervous system," according to the suit.

Police reports at the time of the incident indicated the boy was struck by a lawnmower protruding from a trailer and then run over by the trailer.

He was treated for a scalp cut and multiple bruises at Marin General Hospital.

Minor Injuries In Running Fall

A 17-year-old Bel Marin Keys girl suffered forehead bruises when she fell while running along side a car on Irish Drive, North of Center Road, according to Novato police.

Officers said Laurie Jacquelyn Ross of 960 Bel Marin Keys Boulevard had been riding in a car driven by William Louis Fuller, 21, of 209 San Felipe Way, Novato, at 8:33 p.m.

After a dispute, Fuller forced her out of the car and she grabbed the left front door handle and ran alongside for about 20 or 30 feet before she lost her balance and fell, police said. She was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Petaluma Theft

Randy Hughes, 101 Jessie Lane, Petaluma, told police that his orange motorcycle was stolen yesterday from the parking lot of Petaluma Senior High School.

Budget For Street, Drainage Is Approved

The Tiburon City Council last night approved a $90,700 street and drainage budget but deleted $5,400 from the city engineer's $26,650 budget.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said the deleted funds were for soils investigation and engineering costs.

Approved were $80,500 in street improvement funds — including $30,000 for a walkway and bicycle path on Paradise Drive from Main to Solano Street — and $10,200 in drainage funds.

Brief Ceremony Set For School's Removal

A brief ceremony has been planned for 9 a.m. Thursday when Dixie School District's old one-room school house will start on a journey to a new site, according to the chairman, Joan Hay.

She said that by that time the little white building will be up on wheels at its present location

Councilmen also approved a $750 contribution to a joint Tiburon-Belvedere-Reed School District summer recreation program, with the funds to be combined with a like amount approved by the Belvedere City Council last night.

Balmer said another budget session will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at city hall to discuss a proposed 5 per cent across-the-board salary increase for city employees, establishment of a community development department and hiring of an open space consultant.

The school house is to be placed on a site on the Miller Creek School grounds in Marinwood, where it is to be used as a museum.

Josephine Leary, Dixie teacher who retires this month, will serve as curator of the museum and will be present at the ceremonies Thursday, according to Mrs. Hay.

She said that school officials, youngsters and parents are also expected to attend.

Street Peddler Licenses On Tap

The San Anselmo City Council, meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at city hall, will review city ordinances dealing with the licensing of street peddlers.

Currently two ordinances deal with peddlers — one requiring a use permit and business license and the other just a business license.

According to Councilman James F. Reed, who asked that the matter be discussed, simply issuing a business license does not provide adequate control. He said he will seek to have the two ordinances integrated.

The council also is expected to consider rules for use of the Robson-Harrington Park, consider a rate increase request from the Yellow Cab Co. and hear a report on recycling programs.

Innocent Plea To Perversion

Carl Leonard Collins, 25, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of perversion.

A jury trial was set for the week of Aug. 16.

Collins was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury last month in connection with a March 27 incident in which a San Francisco man told Tiburon Sheriff's deputies that Collins had molested his 5-year-old son in a public restroom at Paradise Park.

Apartment Master Plan Is Approved

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved a master plan for 184 apartment units along Ignacio Boulevard opposite the Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center.

Plans by McSweeney and Schuppel call for the units to be constructed on a 9.8 acre site at the southwest corner of Ignacio Boulevard and Alameda Del Prado.

The planning staff said the location was appropriate for apartments and was topographically separated from nearby single-family homes.

The commission also approved rezoning of 4.6 acres on the north side of Fairway Drive, between Birdie Drive and Alameda De La Loma from single-family, 10,000 square foot lots, to planned-community, as requested by Charles Kuhn.

High Court Says Vulgarisms No Criminal Offense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, in a 5 to 4 decision, has ruled it is not a criminal offense to display a four-letter vulgarism in public.

The court handed down the decision Monday in the case of Paul Robert Cohen, who was sentenced to 30 days in jail after he was convicted of "tumultuous and offensive conduct" in California. Cohen appeared in the corridor of the Los Angeles courthouse wearing a jacket bearing the words "fxxx the draft."

The court, in a majority opinion written by Justice John M. Harlan, said Cohen's conviction violated the First and Fourteenth amendments.

"We cannot indulge the facile assumption that one can forbid particular words without also running a substantial risk of suppressing ideas in the process," Harlan said.

Rohnert Park Sets Garbage Rate Hike

The Rohnert Park City Council last night agreed to an increase of garbage rates from $1.50 to $2.30 per month.

City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said the new payment schedule had been requested by Redwood Empire Disposal Corp. since rates had not been increased since 1963.

Callinan said the new rate would be charged to all customers and to the city for open space.

The Rohnert Park City Council Also:

APARTMENTS — Approved plans of Argonaut Constructors to build five four-plex apartment units on Bridgit Drive. Callinan said the developer had originally planned five units, but reduced the number to provide more rear-yard setback and landscaping as demanded by neighboring residents on Adrian Drive.

ANNEXATION — Denied the request of Van Logan of Land Investors Research to consider annexing 70 acres south of East Cotati Avenue. The council said it wanted all of the several hundred acres annexed at the same time so that 50 acres could be dedicated OPEN SPACE — Approved a zoning amendment that would permit only 34 per cent of an acre of multifamily zoning to be used for living units. The balance must remain in open space.

ZONING — Delayed consideration until July 6 on the request of Debra Homes Inc. to rezone 82 acres north of the Rohnert Park expressway for multifamily planned-development district.

CATS — Adopted an ordinance banning cats from running loose and creating a disturbance by loud noises.

and since no minimum deposit is required, his money would be handy when he needed it. Well, Robert Van Pelt—"Gus" to his friends—age five is now a proud Bell Saver and we're just as proud to have him here at Bell Savings. New BPW Chief Mapping Change

More Individual Training Is Miss McClain's Goal

By BARBARA HOSMER
"Basically we're working to get women more qualified for advancement in business," Lois M. McClain explained over a cup of coffee in the kitchen of her Corte Madera home.

As the new president of the 12,000 member California Federation of Business and Professional Women, Miss McClain heads the largest state unit of the largest national organization of working women.

And as a trust officer for the Bank of America, headquartered in San Francisco, she travels throughout the nation as senior trust administrator of pension and profit-sharing programs for unions and corporations.

"I'M BASICALLY an administrator," Miss McClain sums it up, and she intends to apply her 20 years' business experience to the job of coordinating California's 360 clubs of Business and Professional Women this year.

"It'll be a different year for BPW," she remarked. "I'm in no way afraid of change."

The Business and Professional Women's organization concentrates on two phases, personal development of its members and civic affairs, she explained in a Saturday afternoon conversation punctuated by telephone calls about BPW business.

"WE'RE NOT a Women's Lib group, but that is not to say that we don't support some of the same objectives. We prefer, on an action base, to approach problems less emotionally... a more ladylike and objective approach. We also try to bring some answers.

It works, she believes. "You have to get to know legislators and to reason with them," she said. BPW has a representative in Sacramento.

Some of the areas of agreement of BPW and feminist groups are support for the Equal Rights Amendment, although Miss McClain noted that some individual members do not support this proposed amendment to the Constitution forbidding sex discrimination; adequate day care services for children, tax deduction for cost of dependents' care, equal treatment before the law for married and single persons, equal employment opportunity for men and women, and support for removal of exemption of educational institutions from Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. BPW also supports U.S. ratification of the United Nations Convention on the Political Rights of Women.

Miss McClain said that the organization acts by supporting and urging legislation that promotes these aims, not by direct confrontation with employers and government bodies.

ONE OF the strongest areas of BPW is in individual development, she stated. The statewide group plans training sessions in public speaking, parliamentary law, conference and management techniques and federation orientation.

"The essence is training our own women," she said. "Women don't often get the opportunity to attend the seminars that men do," she pointed out, and don't have as much opportunity to learn what they need to know to advance themselves in the business world.

She believes that organizations such as the Business and Professional Women can help

LOIS M. MCCLAIN
Leads business women

members gain awareness of what's going on around them and the facts they need to know to make decisions.

Getting the facts and information about legislative questions and large issues as well as training opportunities to members at club level is her prime goal this year. She hopes to make each club active and better tied-in to the state federation.

"ACTION" FOR the BPW does not mean filing legal complaints or suits with governmental anti-discrimination agencies nor does it mean taking to the streets in demonstrations or confrontations.

Rather, it comes through conferences, committee work, persuasion of legislators and participation in such events as the California Legislative Roundtable. The roundtable is made up of persons representing a variety of women's groups and meets quarterly in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento.

Lois McClain is the BPW delegate and went to Sacramento for its meeting Saturday to discuss education on the Equal Rights Amendment. Other clubs participating include Sopotimist, Zonta, Parent-Teacher Association, California Home Economics Association, Venture, California Federation of Women's Clubs, the American Association of University Women and Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"It's an action group for the California Advisory Commission on the Status of Women's recommendations," she explained. "We look for a common concern for women in recommended legislation."

The Business and Professional Women also has its own roundtables to educate members on legislative issues, she added.

"That's one way we get the word out to members on what's doing legislatively."

WHILE THE Business and Professional Women Federation's vocabulary doesn't ordinarily include words such as "the system," or "the Establishment," or "women's oppression," Miss McClain conceded that its style in California may be a little more aggressive than before. And she pointed out that BPW, organized in 1919, was an advocate for women's rights long before Women's Liberation.

"One place we'll be more aggressive, certainly, is in the job of educating our members better than ever before," she said. "We expect to send our legislative advocate in Sacramento, Ruth Church Gupta, around to the state membership," she explained, and she herself will go to district meetings throughout the state and will head California's delegation—the largest—at the national BPW convention in Cleveland in July.

Of course, that will also be a business trip for Miss McClain, adding Buffalo and St. Louis to her itinerary.

"I'm booked through next April," she commented about her travel for the bank.

WITH 20 years in banking, holding an unusually high position for a woman, and with a degree from the University of San Francisco in business administration with minors in economics, philosophy and psychology, Miss McClain sees a strong need for women to become successful in business. To do this, she believes, women need the continual education requisite to employment and advancement. Business success also answers a need for personal fulfillment, she says, in this age when women live some 30 years after their children are on their own.

Most women who work do so to meet the cost of living, and many are divorced, widowed or single and must be self-supporting, she said. Better that they be employed and contribute tax dollars than go on the welfare rolls.

"Women offer a different insight into problems in business, they have a different approach that can be helpful on a team concept," she says.

She sees greater opportunities for women in business than in past years, and adds that some women are not used to such roles and need training to assist them.

"Of course, not every woman wants to be an executive, nor does every man. The benefits are great and so are the stresses," she said.

Miss McClain said that she herself now attends seminars and conferences in banking on an equal basis with men, but that opportunity was not always available.

BPW, she says, concentrates on the adult age woman's business problems and, with AAUW, supports a proposed educational and occupation counseling center for women in California to assist, especially, the 40-age-group woman.

THOUGH SELDOM at home, Lois McClain enjoys coin and stamp collecting when she gets a chance to spend time in the Madera Garden house she shares with her family and two dogs. She also hikes, golfs and tunes in her shortwave radio to receive 32 countries.

But right now it's the BPW need to get "more women who are willing to become interested in what's going on about them and effect changes," that keeps her busy.

"Not that we're quite ready for the bra-less look of the unhooked generation," she adds with a laugh.

Nostalgia Reaps High Prices At Hollywood Sale

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Michael Fish, the "Mr. Fish" of the London fashion world, paid $2,695 for 37 costumes from the 1930s and 40s in an auction at Max Berman and Sons.

Sotheby, Parke-Bernet is auctioning off the rental costumes because the Berman company is abandoning that end of the business.

Fish, who introduced the Edwardian look to London's Saville Row, bought a black silk velvet evening gown worn by Rosalind Russell in "Mourning Becomes Electra" in 1947.

Another item he purchased Sunday was a black crepe evening gown worn by Jane Russell in "The French Line" (1953).

An agent for Debbie Reynolds bought 13 costumes for $1,135 for use in a movie museum.

Handyman? Now It Can Be 'Ecology Man'

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Now there's a proposal for an "ecology man" to replace the handyman, a vanishing species in America anyway.

This ecology man could play a many-sided role—prolonging the service of household items such as appliances, help the homemaker to get rid of clutter, that assortment every household has of items "too good" to throw away yet seldom if ever used, or "recycle" products by giving them a new role. How would you like an old boat turned into a lawn gazebo?

The need for all these services is arising as consumers finally begin to resist the idea of. "Cheaper to buy a new one than get it repaired," says Dr. Ernest Dichter, the motivational researcher. But comes a breakdown anyway, where to turn?

DICHTER SUGGESTED that manufacturers offer repair kits and intelligible instructions with their products and make a greater number of items with interchangeable parts.

Another suggestion: "Do everything" service centers in handy locations, such as apartment complexes, instead of the way they're scattered now. The same centers might also rent "spares" just as some auto dealers do while the car is in the shop.

Revive the "house call" service in which a repairman regularly visits neighborhoods, just as the wagon knife and scissors sharpeners once did, assuring the household a predictable schedule and eliminating need for her to load an appliance in the car.

Dichter, head of the Institute for Motivational Research, Inc., Croton-on-Hudson, N.Y., took a look at the ecology man in his current "Findings," a newsletter.

THE ECOLOGY man could make door to door calls to "revive" old products — appliances, furniture, even shoes. He might help the household get rid of things "too good" to throw away by picking up and refurbishing old clothes, books, furniture for distribution to the needy.

Making household "junk"

Flavor To Rice

Orange rind and juice add flavor and color to rice mixes. For 1 (6-ounce) package of long grain and wild rice mix, prepare as label directs, but substitute orange juice for ½ cup of the water. Before serving, add ½ cup of sliced, sauteed celery and grated rind of one orange.

into the basis for new crafts is another possible new area for a "recycling" business, Dichter says. He envisions all kinds of "ecology kits", books that would take an imaginative, fun look at "junk."

Dichter writes of "ecology" crafts that could have useful results—for example, how to turn an old boat into a lawn gazebo, an old bike into an exercise machine, all kinds of finishes (decals and paintings) to glamorize old desks or turn them into coffee tables.

"The whole fashion and home sewing field already is on a recycling bent," he says — "old" clothes, for instance, in vogue as seen in the patches prolonging the life of jeans. And look at the new popularity for patchwork, an "antique recycling art."

DICHTER SAYS recycled objects could become art. He mentions one artist who uses broken umbrellas to make bird sculptures and a Frenchman whose lawn is decorated with (plastic sprayed) old pianos and sewing machines.

Now if Dr. Dichter can think of something artistic to do with all the automobiles polluting roadsides across the nation, that's real recycling.

Or, there's another thought. Put together instruction kits for turning cans into art. Maybe artist Andy Warhol could write these. Think of what he did with the Campbell's tomato soup can.

Nixon Chef Says The Lemon Cake Is Very Good

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House wedding cake, which kept skeptical cooks, columnists and kitchens busy for a good part of last week, has emerged from the oven.

And according to the man who baked it, chef Henry Haller, "It tastes very, very good with a lemon flavor."

In addition to the main 350-pound, six-foot-plus cake, Haller baked several smaller cakes which will be put in little boxes and handed out as souvenirs to each of the 400 guests at Tricia Nixon's wedding Saturday.

The cake has yet to be frosted. Once it is, sugar lovebirds, white roses and white cherry blossoms being turned out by a pastry chef in New York will be added.

The only remaining cake mystery concerns the decoration on top which will not be announced. It is expected the decoration will consist of a confection shaped into a miniature White House Rose Garden—the setting for the wedding, weather permitting.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Down With Mother's Day — At Least That Is Sentiment Of One Mother

DEAR HELEN: "Down with Mother's Day," says I!

It causes more problems and hurt feelings than any other special day of the year.

On that one occasion, normally sensible women weep from self-pity (if the child visits mother-in-law instead; pout because they got gifts instead of visits, and/or visits instead of gifts; feel suddenly old and alone (the children are scattered); upbraid their husbands ("You made me a mother, why didn't you get me a gift?") and do all manner of stupid things.

Last May 9, I found myself furious because I had to cook dinner for eight — all the children and their spouses converged from various cities. Yet, normally, I would have been enchanted that they all got together for a visit and, in fairness, I must admit they did most of the work. (So the "mad" only lasted about 50 seconds.)

Do other mothers agree? Why a special day that puts the children in a bind and mothers in a snit, when we should treat our families equally well all year? — MRS. T. D.

DEAR MRS. D.:

One of my correspondents calls Mother's Day "Atonement Day" as those gifts make up (supposedly) for a year's neglect. On the other hand, she might have nothing at all, without it, and I often wonder if such self-pitying mothers earn such treatment.

Anyway, those "special days" are great for a sagging economy. They bring out the shoppers. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My aunt's dog bit our little son who went up to pet him. Not wanting to upset my aunt, we didn't tell her we had the bite checked by the doctor. He said we should notify the board of health because of possible rabies, which we did, though we were sure the dog was healthy. We figured that ended it.

Well, the authorities came out to check her dog, and now she is furious at us. She accused me on the phone of making a federal case out of a little "scratch." I lost my temper and told her she should be more concerned about the people her dog attacks and, after all, WE were the ones who had the worry and the doctor bill. She shouted, "If that's the way you feel, send me the bill! My insurance will cover it." All this just because we tried to shield her.

Well, our son's bite is well, the dog is fine (but still frisky), and we have a family feud on our hands. Must I apologize for HER dog biting MY son? — BADLY HURT

DEAR HURT:

Apologize? No. Explain? Yes. But not in anger.

A short letter telling your aunt how all this came about, should bring an apology from HER. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm glad you told "The Older Kids" that "one party won't stop chronic fighting."

Two years ago I gave my battling parents an anniversary present by sending them to Florida and the Bahamas, thinking things would get better. Another time I gave them a car, and a big anniversary party. Nothing helped. My father continued on with his girl friend. My mother remained miserable.

Deep-rooted problems aren't solved that easily. Bringing unhappily married people together against their will might even push them farther apart. — ANOTHER CHILD.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU.

LIFE STYLE CHANGE

Elegant Dining Losing Favor

By SUSAN S. STEVENS

CHICAGO (UPI)—Been out dining recently? Most likely.

But have you been out for an evening-long feast with eight courses, vintage wine, elegant decor, impeccable service and sky-high prices? Probably not. Very few persons still regard haute cuisine worth the time and expense and few restaurants remain to serve them grandly.

Fine dining is on its death bed in the United States, says David Wexler, publisher of Institutions and Volume Feeding magazine. At the same time, Wexler says, the prepared-foods industry is rising much like well-yeasted dough.

A change in life style is the main reason Americans are turning their noses up at truly fine dining, Wexler says, even though they're eating out more frequently.

Not many people want to dress formally to go to dinner and few want to spend the better part of an evening eating, he says.

Even though fewer meals are eaten in homes, the growth of the restaurant industry is in providing home-like fare in short-order, carryout foods.

The publisher says women's liberation has had a great deal to do with the decline and fall of the ultimate in dining. Working women, ever growing in numbers, are more inclined to want to spend their evenings at home relaxing—as hubby does. Or, they have duties at home which take up time which they might otherwise spend in luxury dining.

The "reconfiguration of families" is a strong factor in the changing pattern also—most family members have interests outside the home that their parents or grandparents did not have. Many families do not even eat at the same time.

With father probably a commuter, the traditional dinner hour has broken down. Children eat before father arrives home and mother either dines with them or waits for him and so she often loses interest in preparing a really good meal.

While haute cuisine is going begging, moderately priced, prepared food is making restaurants mushroom. Wexler says more than one-third of the meals eaten in the nation today are away from home.

"Middle-America types are doing a land-office business," Wexler says, and these include many restaurants "east of the Hudson in New York."

The food expert says America has "rigid" tastes with hamburgers, shrimp, steak and chicken leaders on the menus.

"The U.S. is hooked on hamburgers," he said. "There's no way out of it, whether we like it or not."

Liberation Search

— Over 40

T. Grace Atkinson is recruiting for the women's liberation movement from the over 40 group, according to Women's Wear Daily.

In a speech before the New School's Human Relations Center in New York, she told her audience of middle class housewives they were the key to the movement.

"Younger women believe you more than they do me, because you've been there. And believe me, it feels good when you finally let it out," she said.

MISS ATKINSON took issue with volunteerism for the housewife.

"You wind up doing what you've been doing, but like now you're mothers' helpers. You're half-wits' half-wits. Don't let them tell you there are no jobs for your skills. The jobs are there, but not the loot," she said.

Sharing the podium with her was Elinor Guggenheimer, long associated with day care centers. She said much the same thing.

"Let's grasp some political power. I mention I want to run for President and people laugh. I don't think that's so ridiculous, especially when I see the people we'll have to choose from next time."

A Teen's Favorites

Animal pins and pins of simple, spare shapes are favorites of the teen-age girl. Charms are a wardrobe in themselves for her also. She collects them in multiples to hang from rigid necklets, from bracelets, from ribbons, from belts.

Around her wrist the teen-ager likes bangle bracelets in profusion. She likes them in a row, mixing white and yellow golden tones, white and yellow gold filled, polished and matte finishes, and a flourish of textures. The Jewelry Industry Council says so.

THE SLIP KNOT RING

Three Decorating Series To Start Next Week

Frederick C. Erickson, AID, will conduct three series of interior decorating classes beginning next week at the Montgomery Ward store at the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

A beginner course, the Art of Interior Decorating, will cover the basic principles of interior design. The personal approach to home decorating, how best to use what is already in the home and how to purchase home furnishings which best reflect the personal life style of those in the home will be emphasized during the eight weeks of the course.

A five-week intermediate course, The Styles in Your Life, is designed for persons interested in antiques and current furniture trends.

Limited Space Unlimited, also an intermediate course, will be taught for six weeks by Mr. Erickson, who will show how to carve out extra storage space in older homes. How to create a dining room in a small apartment and how to live spaci-ously in a mobile home.

Classes are scheduled for both day and evening. Registration information is available from the Montgomery Ward store.

Tip For Golfing

Tuck a plastic bag from the cleaners into the side pocket of the golf bag. If a sudden shower occurs while you're on the course, put the plastic bag over the golf bag, protecting both bag and clubs.

Deep Chilling

Deep chilling, a method which chills the product at 28 degrees Fahrenheit and holds it there, gives poultry a much longer shelf life, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Mrs. Dean To Head Peter Pan Chapter

New president of the Peter Pan chapter of Children's Home Society is Mrs. Martin J. Dean of Novato.

Betty Dean has been a member of the chapter for two years and last year served as recording secretary. CHS chapters raise funds and perform volunteer services to assist the staff of the home.

Fund raising activities planned for the coming club year include the Marin Bike I.D. program, a food booth at the Haunted House at Halloween time and a fall film festival. A volunteer project is the Stork Express, assisting in the delivering of babies who are to be adopted.

A native of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Dean attended Michigan State University. Her husband is the assistant superintendent for the special educational services division of the San Francisco Unified School District. They have a daughter, Pamela, and an 11-year-old son, Gregory.

Since moving to Marin five years ago, Mrs. Dean says, she has directed interests toward school activities and Boy Scouts. She enjoys playing tennis.

Other Peter Pan chapter officers are Mmes. Jack Pierce, vice president; Douglas O'Connor, recording secretary; Richard Grechman, corresponding secretary; and Russell Pearson, treasurer.

TYPICAL OF the classic look predicted by fashion writers, who have seen American designers fall couture fashions, is the wool double knit suit designed by Marion Digney. The costume combines the look of a suit and the practicality of a dress and jacket with the appeal of brick red and brown in a woven daisy pattern. The look, inspired by the late Coco Chanel, is a contrast to the one British fashion experts are predicting for fall — the "country girl look."

Traveling With Dog? Here Are Some Tips

Dogs are adaptable, and a trip away from home can be a happy experience if you plan ahead and heed basic rules that apply to canine travel, reports Sabina Hubbard in the summer edition of Destinations magazine.

Whether traveling in the United States or abroad, be sure your dog is in excellent health. Have him examined by a veterinarian and ask the doctor for a certificate showing your dog has had rabies and distemper shots. Never ship an aged or infirm dog by common carrier, unless it is approved by a veterinarian, she says.

If you are going abroad you can find out the rules and regulations governing pets from consulates of countries you will visit.

There is very little red tape to cut if you are traveling by car in the United States, Mrs. Hubbard notes. Only Connecticut requires a health certificate if the dog stays in the state more than 21 days, and Hawaii requires a quarantine of 120 days.

Get the dog used to being in the car. Buy pills to combat car sickness, just in case.

Be sure your hotel or motel reservations are firm before you start. It's no fun wandering about in search of an inn with a tired, whimpering animal. Your travel agent or motor club can tell you where pets are welcome.

Have a current identification tag on your dog. If you stay in one place for a long time, get a second tag with that address and phone number.

Pack a separate suitcase for your dog, including a favorite toy and blanket.

Buy bottled water, it will keep him from getting diarrhea.

And for your sake, make him nice to be near. Bathe and groom him before you leave.

If you're going by air, the same general rules apply. If possible, ship your dog as ex-

Women Liable For Community Property Share

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nine male justices of the Supreme Court were sympathetic Monday but nonetheless ruled that married women are personally liable for federal income taxes on their share of community property even if they renounce their rights to it.

The court voted 9-0 that the government could collect federal taxes from a Louisiana divorcee and a widow on their half of community property earned by their husbands.

Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas and Washington also are community property states.

"It must be conceded that these cases are hard cases and exceedingly unfortunate for the two women taxpayers," said Justice Harry A. Blackmun. "Our sympathies are with the women but redem lies in ... legislation."

As a result, Mrs. Anne Mitchell Jr., a divorcee, loses the benefit of her inheritance from her mother, Blackmun said. Mrs. Frances Angello loses her beneficiary interest in her late husband's life insurance policy.

The opinion did not state what dollar amounts were involved in either case.

Summer Job? Could Try Paramedical Field

While jobs for the high school graduates are considered scarce, one field that has grown 200 per cent in the past 20 years is the paramedical field.

Paramedical jobs include physical therapy assistants, inhalation therapists, optometric assistants, operating room technicians and others.

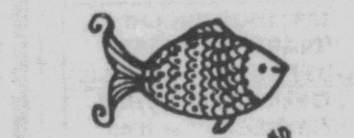

Most require less than a bachelor's degree and offer a large choice of jobs for women, according to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Government publications give educational, personal and job qualifications for careers in the health field.

One such booklet, "Allied Health Workers: Now and Tomorrow," answers questions about health careers and details programs in the field. It is available from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Division of Allied Health Manpower, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., 20014.

The pamphlet, "Health Professions Student Loan Program" describes loan eligibility and details. It is available from HEW, Division of Physicians and Health Professions Education, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md.

Handbags-Your Choices Of Boxes, Barrels, Swaggers And Pouches

Fashion offers a mixed bag — a mixture of many handbag styles in as many leathers.

The shoulder-strap is one over-riding theme in spring handbags. Another is the deeper vertical silhouette in envelopes and pouches.

Beyond these, the succession includes the clutch, satchel, tote and other shapes such as box bags, barrels and swaggers.

Leathers found in new bags stress two primary feelings — softness, and/or elegance, notes Leather Industries of America.

For most daytime bags, there are leathers with a crushable touch — grained and smooth, suede and brushed, softened and waxy, and crushed patent.

Dressier styles call for reptile embossed and metal-colored leathers, plus some of the other tannages but in a softer construction.

Some handbags combine two textures with suede and reptile-embossed leather.

Shoulder-strappers may be spacious envelopes, soft pouches or totes. Shapes are mainly vertical, with many deep and flat but made to expand obligingly to hold all the necessities.

Straps run from all-chain, leather-and-chain, leather ropes and wide-stitched bands to ribbons or or silk braid. Many straps may be adjusted.

For hand-holders and arm-swingers, there are leather pouches, envelopes and clutches.

Return To Classic Look Is Predicted For Autumn

By JOAN LISETOR

A civilized message is coming through for fall in American fashions, according to Women's Wear Daily. Writers for the ready-to-wear fashions trade paper are predicting a return to the classic look.

Menawhile, from the British Consul General's office in San Francisco comes a message, "Swinging London says — it is the 'country girl' look."

Twelve London fashion firms are showing versatile, colorful fall collections at the Salesman's Fashion Guild Market Week, which began Sunday at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco. Many feature interpretations of the country girl look in the individual style of Britain's young fashion designers.

Predictions from Women's Wear Daily writers, who have seen the American designer fall couture designs, are that three looks will set the pace for fall — the blazer, the layered looks and the wrap coat. They are touting the suit's comeback with Chanel-inspired lines.

Classic look lengths will range from several inches above the knee to floor length, but the most popular seems to be just above the calf or below it.

Only time will tell how far back in history fashion will reach this year.

Other handbags seeing daytime duty include satchels, open-sided swaggers, totes, barrels and box bags. Most carry through the soft look, but some have a tailored, rigid construction.

Entering after-dark territory are evening bags in elegant leathers — lustre, embossed, suede, smooth and metallic-colored.

Among evening bag shapes are the box, envelop, clutch and minaudiere.

Belvedere Nod: Budget, Pay Hike

The Belvedere City Council last night approved a tentative $378,888 operations and equipment budget for fiscal 1971-72 and granted city employees a 5 per cent across-the-board wage increase.

The council voted 5-0 for the budget and 3-0 for the wage increase.

Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel and Alan Steinau wanted a sliding scale for wage increases. They proposed 6 per cent for employees making less than $800, 5 per cent for those making $800 to $1,000 and 4 per cent for those making more than $1,000 per month. They abstained on the wage vote.

The $378,888 budget figure arrived at last night was $4,363 higher than reported in the Independent-Journal June 3, according to City Mgr. William L. Cavalli, because of inaccuracies in his earlier calculations. The council instructed City Mgr. William L. Cavalli to make a further study of a $15,- 925 item for street sweeper. They asked him to report whether it would be cheaper to continue leasing the sweeper from Tiburon or buying a sweeper.

The operations and equipment budget is $22,648 more than this year's $356,240 budget, but the sweeper item could change that figure, Cavalli said.

He did not expect the increase to affect the city's tax rate, now $1.70 per $100 assessed valuation. Belvedere, like all other taxing agencies in Marin will receive a windfall gain this year when the ratio of assessed valuation to market value rises from 23 to 25 per cent.

The budget reviewed last night made no allowance for any capital improvements the council might elect to make as the budget undergoes further review at future regular council meetings.

The Belvedere City Council also:

RECREATION — Authorized spending $750 for the summer recreation program with Tiburon paying an equal amount and the Reed School District $1,500.

JOINT POWERS — Authorized City Atty. Robert F. MacKay to continue working with Tiburon city officials on a joint powers agreement on operating the bicycle paths. The council instructed MacKay to change the wording so that Tiburon would manage the path with the right to relocate it, if Belvedere cities would have continual use of it.

MOTORCYCLES — Adopted a resolution proposed by the Belvedere-Tiburon Committee for the Environment to ban all motor vehicles, including mini-bikes, and motorcycles from Richardson Bay Park.

POLICE — Adopted the concept of a four-county police regional planning agency. The area would include Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties.

SPEED LIMIT — Authorized the city staff to make a study of traffic on corinthian Island to suggest a speed limit on the narrow streets on the island.

LANE — Closed the lane between Golden Gate Avenue and Bella Vista Avenue to public use as it is unsafe because of earth movement.

SHIP CHANNEL — Appointed Drechsel as the city's representative on a deep water channel in Carquinez Straits at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. June 16 in the First Congregational Church in Tiburon.

VARIANCE — Denied a side yard setback variance but approved a carport variance for Joseph Parker at 6 Cliff Road.

MEETING DATES — Set July 6 and Sept. 7 as meeting dates because of the conflict with the July 4 and Labor Day holidays.

Strong Stand On Ridge Development

Mill Valley should do all it can to discourage development of 1,200 acres of scenic Ridge-land between the city and Larkspur and Corte Madera, City Councilman Jerome C. Hauke declared last night.

Other councilmen agreed with Hauke, who said the city should "put property owners on notice that we're making it as hard as we can to develop their land."

Hauke urged the council to adopt a strict anti-development policy as a way of keeping the land undeveloped until it can be acquired as open space.

Talks are under way between Mill Valley, Larkspur and Corte Madera to devise some way of holding the North Ridge area in permanent open space.

City Mgr. William H. Cunningham said another meeting will be set for early July to further explore the open space acquisition.

Cunningham estimated that the 1,200 acres on the North Ridge above 500 feet in elevation are worth $750,000. Mentioned as possible methods of acquiring the land were a county service district, a regional park district and outright purchase of the land by the three cities involved.

Hauke made a strong plea for buying the land, and said the city should undertake the purchase on its own if a regional approach fails. Other councilmen, however, said they felt Mill Valley could not afford to do so.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

BRIDGE — Awarded a $219,505 contract to McGuire and Hester Construction Co. to reconstruct the Camino Alto Bridge over Arroyo Corte Madera Del Presidio. Councilmen also decided to keep Camino Alto open rather than to route traffic along Sycamore Avenue.

AGREEMENT — Approved a joint powers agreement with the Mill Valley Flood Control Zone to pay half the cost of the Camino Alto Bridge up to $105,300 and half the engineering costs up to $10,000.

BURGLARIES — Instructed City Mgr. William H. Cunningham to work with the police department to develop a policy on reporting household burglaries to the press. Some councilmen felt names and address of victims should be omitted.

PARK TERRACE — Approved a final subdivision agreement and map for a 68-unit condominium project, called Park Terrace, to be built at Miller Avenue and La Goma Street.

PARKING — Instructed City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to prepare an ordinance increasing the time limit on downtown parking meters from one to two hours.

LEASE — Approved leasing the city-owned Lytton Square Bus Depot to Janice Aronoff for $250 per month but rejected Hauke's motion to make the city responsible for cleaning sidewalks in front of the depot.

SLIDE — Instructed the city attorney to prepare a resolution declaring the Miller Avenue landslide a public nuisance and instructing the owner, Melinda Rowe-Beddoe, to remove it.

LT. COL. EVERETT C. BROWN
Gets aerospace duty

Col. Brown Named To New Post

Lt. Col. Everett C. Brown, director of information at Hamilton Air Force Base, has been named to head the information office of the 14th Aerospace Force in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Brown, 47, a veteran combat pilot, termed the new post in the worldwide command "the biggest job in my career."

His new unit has the Air Force's space mission, he said. Its job is to monitor space and keep track of all satellites. The colonel said the unit keeps track of how many satellites there are, who they belong to, how long they will stay up "and pretty well what they're doing up there."

Colonel Brown, who will leave for his new post on July 1, has been at Hamilton since February, 1969. He will be succeeded in September by Lt. Col. Johnny Walker, now in Turkey. Capt. Joseph Corfield, deputy director of information at Hamilton, will be acting director until Walker's arrival.

Colonel Brown previously served a one-year tour in Vietnam, where he won the Distinguished Flying Cross. He flew 545 combat sorties as the pilot of a cargo plane, flying up to 10 missions a day. He and his wife, Joyce, reside with their daughter, Cynthia, 14, on the base at 230 South Oakwood Drive.

Jail Time On Reduced Count

Grace Patricia Halloran, 24, of Novato, was sentenced to 60 days in Marin County Jail yesterday after she pleaded guilty to a reduced misdemeanor charge of putting a lighted cigarette where it might start a fire.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court also placed Miss Halloran on probation for one year and gave her credit for time already spent in jail.

She was originally charged with arson in connection with a fire at her home last Aug. 18.

Garbage, Taxi Rate Hikes Are Approved

Increases in the prices of getting rid of garbage and getting around by taxi were approved last night by the San Rafael City Council.

Marin Sanitary Service was given approval to hike its rate for collection of one can in level areas of the city from $2.25 a month to $2.50. One can in hill areas will go up from $2.75 to $3.00.

San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi, representing the sanitary service, said the increase was needed because of general inflation rates and a substantial increase in labor costs.

Taxi rates will increase from 70 cents for the first two-fifths mile and 10 cents for each additional one-fifth mile to 70 cents for the first one-sixth mile and 10 cents for each additional one-sixth mile.

In asking for the increase, Robert C. Jennings, president of San Rafael Taxi Cabs Inc., said his company lost $13,086 last year and that he could not continue to operate at the old fare rates.

Both increases were approved by the council unanimously.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

CLOSED SESSION — Met in closed session for half an hour prior to its regular meeting to discuss a personnel matter. City Atty. Fred C. Robbins said later that council action on the matter would come at its June 21 meeting.

SIGNS — Passed to print an ordinance requiring a $100 bond from candidates for city offices to ensure that campaign signs are taken down within 15 days after an election.

TRIAL — Directed City Mgr. James H. McGowan to prepare a resolution asking the state administration and legislature to assist Marin County with the cost of the Angela Davis-Ruchell Magee trial.

HEARING — Set a public hearing for July 6 on formation of an underground utility district bounded by Mission Avenue, Third, A and E streets.

FIRE EQUIPMENT — Approved purchase of a $40,885 fire engine from P. E. Van Pelt Co. of Oakland, Stanislaus County; and miscellaneous fire equipment totaling $4,146 from Western Fire Equipment Co. of Brisbane, $2,612 from L. N. Curtis and Sons of Berkeley and $828 from Wardlaw Fire Equipment Co. of La Habra, Orange County. Bids for the equipment were opened by Fire Chief Vance Trivett May 26.

SEWERS — Approved an agreement for a $275,000 grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development for San Rafael's sewer system restoration project.

CARPET — Referred 18 bids from four companies for carpeting in San Rafael Library to the library board for a recommendation June 21.

Sewage Ban For Passenger Trains

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration has ruled that passenger trains currently in operation may not discharge sewage along the tracks after Jan. 1, 1975.

The ban will take effect sooner—July 1, 1972—for all passenger train equipment still under construction.

Protection To Newsmen On Subdivision Appeals Bill Advances

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The law protecting newsmen from being forced to divulge the source of their information would be toughened under terms of a bill pending today before the Assembly.

The measure, authored by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, and backed by the California Newspaper Publishers Association, cleared the Assembly Judiciary Committee Monday on a voice vote and went to the floor. Present law gives newsmen, including radio and television reporters, immunity from testifying in court on the source of published or broadcast stories.

Sieroty's measure would extend the immunity to the source or nature of a story if a newsman testifies before a grand jury or any other closed meeting.

It also would give reporters immunity from testifying in court on the source of material that was not published or broadcast. Reporters still could be required to testify in court on the nature of unpublished material.

Emergency Action Taken On Subdivision Appeals

The San Rafael City Council learned last night that it has had a law on the books allowing only a proposed subdivider — and not the public — to appeal subdivision decisions of the planning commission.

The council quickly passed an emergency ordinance to open the right to appeal subdivision decisions to the public, but it may not help a group of Bret Hart area residents attempting an appeal.

The subject of the discrimination tory city code section was brought up by City Atty. Fred C. Robbins Jr., who said a 1969 opinion by then City Atty. David Menary Jr. upheld the interpretation that the right of appeal was granted only to the subdivider.

A three-lot subdivision was granted by the planning commission May 27 to Sheldon and Sharon Brandenberger for a 1.3-acre parcel on Southern Heights Boulevard near Bret Hart Road.

The planning commission decision has been appealed to the council by four residents of the area, but a public hearing on the appeal — tentatively set last night for June 21 — will not be held if Robbins rules the emergency ordinance cannot be retroactive.

An attorney for the Brandenbergers, James M. Fletcher of 295 Bret Hart Road, last night opposed allowing the appeal, saying it would "impose a great hardship on the owners of this property."

He said it would require him and his clients to make a complete presentation again on a subject that has already been decided.

198 Packs Last Year For Smoker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The average American adult smoked 198 packs of cigarettes last year, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) said today. It was the fourth straight year of decline.

In 1963, the year before the surgeon general's report on smoking and health, per capita consumption was 214 packs. It dropped to 207 in 1964, rebounded to 210 in 1965 and 1966, and has been declining gradually since.

STORY TIME — Kindergarten students at Brookside School in San Anselmo sit attentively as Dorothy A. Linderman, seated on a miniature chair, reads during story book time. Mrs. Linderman, who has taught 18 years at the school, will retire next week.

SHE'S GOING TO LIVE

Teaching Started 48 Years Ago Now Mrs. Linderman Retires

By ERIK M. INGRAM

Dorothy A. Linderman, whose teaching career began 48 years ago at a small rural school in Glenn County, looks forward to retirement this week from San Anselmo's Brookside School with plans of finding "another fun thing to do."

"I plan to live," she said, putting a special twist to her words. "But maybe you shouldn't write that."

To Mrs. Linderman, living will mean coming and going as she likes, putting around her San Anselmo home and garden and seeing much more of her nine grandchildren.

"Things I just haven't had enough time for before," the kindergarten teacher said.

But while she is looking forward to long, carefree and uninterrupted days, Mrs. Linderman's associates at the school where she has taught the last 18 years view her decision to retire with some regret.

"She's a strength at the school," said Principal Eugene M. Cochran. "She has kept with the latest trends in education and when she speaks other teachers listen."

Others praised her talent for working with children — a gift easily observed with a visit to her kindergarten class.

One moment, she's standing fearlessly in a congested playground as youngsters, mounted on an assortment of two and three-wheeled vehicles, zoom perilously close to her unprotected shins.

The next moment, she has the 28 youngsters back in the classroom and seated quietly for "storybook time" which at this particular time featured readings from "The 500 Hats."

Her "gift," Mrs. Linderman said, is a mixture of understanding and faith in her young students. She describes them as "basically good and always wanting to do what is right."

Besides understanding and faith, experience is an important part of her talent and it goes back almost half a century.

Born in Bakersfield "many years ago," Mrs. Linderman was raised in the Bay Area and is a graduate of San Francisco State College.

She began her career in 1923 in the small valley community of Elk Creek, where she taught the first four grades in a two-room school house. She had 16 students.

Next came a position at Live Oak, Sutter County, where she met her late husband.

"Those were the days when you didn't teach if you were married," she said recalling a busy period in which she raised two daughters, Mary Little, now of Fairfax, and Ann Clerk of Alameda.

Following a move to Marin County, she accepted a position teaching upper elementary grades at Olema School in 1947.

The next year she became principal of the old Black School at Point Reyes Station and in 1952, she moved to San Anselmo's Brookside School.

"It has become a way of life," she said with a smile. "I think I'll miss it. Especially the children. It has been delightful."

Awards Made In Novato Show

Marin and Southern Sonoma gardeners, it was announced yesterday, shared honors in the Novato Garden Club's second annual flower show which attracted about 1,000 persons to the Novato Community House Saturday and Sunday.

Best in show ribbons were won by Etta Jemison of Novato for container plants, Cuma Stanton of Petaluma for cut flowers and Margurite Reward of Cotati for arrangements.

Prize ribbons were awarded in 50 categories of adult competition and nine events for junior gardeners, six to 16 years of age.

Angela Bail Decision Hearing Postponed

The decision on whether Angela Davis will be released on bail has been put off at least until Monday, when a court session is scheduled for 9:15 a.m. before Judge Richard E. Arnsper.

Miss Davis and her codefendant San Quentin inmate Russell Magee had been scheduled to appear again before Judge Arnsper, a visiting judge sitting in Marin Superior Court.

Her chief attorney, Howard

Moore Jr. of Atlanta, asked for the postponement, however, as he had business in Georgia this week.

A court clerk said that the probation officer preparing a report for the judge to assist him in deciding whether to grant bail also asked for more time.

Moore has said in court that Miss Davis has been offered a home in Marin, a job at a Peninsula college and spiritual guidance by Rev. Cecil Williams of Glide Memorial Church in San Francisco, if she is released.

In addition to the bail question, Judge Arnsper is expected to rule next week on the status of the repeated petitions filed by Magee demanding that the case be transferred to federal court.

Magee yesterday filed another petition in state District Court of Appeals in San Francisco asking again that Judge Arnsper be disqualified as being prejudiced.

Magee has repeatedly stalled the case by his various legal tactics, as well as his insistence that he act as his own attorney.

Court observers feel that if Judge Arnsper does not release Miss Davis on bail while she awaits trial, he may split the two cases so that proceedings may get underway for Miss Davis.

Marinites Graduate At Washington St.

Three Marin County residents have received bachelor's degrees from Washington State University at Pullman, Wash.

They are Scott G. Hauge of Fairfax and Christopher L. Cupples and Philip F. Lastreto Jr., both of San Rafael.

Development Lid Set In Petaluma

The Petaluma City Council last night acted to cut the city's recent rate of residential development about in half in an attempt to insure that growth is balanced by needed services and desired amenities.

The council adopted a policy limiting such development to 500 new homes a year.

The plan, as conceived by a citizens advisory committee and planning consultants Williams and Mocine of San Francisco, had previously been the subject of two public hearings before the planning commission gave its approval.

The policy was called a means of controlling future growth so that the small town atmosphere of Petaluma could be preserved. It recommended linking the development rate to school and utility capacities and said a growth rate of between 5 and 7 per cent should be encouraged.

The council adopted the policy by a 5-1 margin with Councilman Robert E. Daly dissenting, saying he wanted more time to study the plan. Councilman Albert L. Battaglia was absent.

With the policy encouraging a balance between east and west Petaluma as well as preservation of open space, more recreation facilities and bicycle paths, new ordinances will be prepared to carry out the plan.

High Court Ruling Hurts Bond Chances

A U.S. Supreme Court decision yesterday dashed the hopes of two Marin County school districts where bond issues had been hanging fire.

The high court ruled that it is constitutional for the state of West Virginia to require more than a simple majority to pass bond issues.

The Marin Junior College and Bolinas-Stinson school districts are among many in the state where bond elections had been passed by a majority but not a two-thirds vote since June 30, 1970.

On that date the California State Supreme Court overturned the 93-year-old requirement that bond issues must be passed by a two-thirds vote.

While the California ruling had been appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, it was not part of the case considered yesterday.

However, most state officials seem to feel that the high court ruling will affect California.

The College District's $16.9 million bond issue received 62.74 per cent favorable in November 1970.

Bolinas-Stinson Beach voters gave a $210,000 bond issue 60 per cent approval September 1970.

Robert E. Spain of the county schools office said today that attorneys specializing in bonds had had doubts all along that selling the bonds passed by a mere majority would be legal.

Hub Ex-Con In Pleas Stemming From Shoot-Out

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — William F. Hardke, 31-year-old San Anselmo ex-convict, yesterday pleaded innocent to three felony charges in San Francisco Superior Court.

Judge Walter Calcagno set July 12 for trial. Hardke was held in lieu of $20,000 bail.

Hardke was charged with armed robbery, assault with a deadly weapon and assault on officers.

A motion to dismiss the charges on the grounds that Hardke was held incommunicado for 11 days, while the grand jury considered the case, was denied by Judge Calcagno.

The charges stemmed from an alleged shooting at officers April 15 outside a bar following an armed robbery in the bar.

Initial Budget, Salary Raises For Firemen, Police Approved

The Petaluma City Council last night received a preliminary 1971-72 budget of $3,700,601 and approved a 7.5 per cent salary increase for police and fire department employees.

City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer said the salary increases, which have been accepted by the Petaluma Police Association and International Association of Firefighters, were reflected in the budget and would take effect on July 1.

The council also approved two additional paid holidays for the officers as well as $25 extra pay per month for policemen holding an intermediate or advanced degree from police officers' standards and training. Firefighters with an Associate of Arts degree would also be eligible for the extra pay.

Meyer said the budget could be supported on the current general fund tax rate of $1.50 per $100 assessed valuation. He said that because of reassessment of properties in Petaluma, the current 37 cent tax rate for debt service could probably be dropped to 33 cents and the total tax rate dropped from $1.87 per $100 assessed valuation to $1.83.

Included in the budget were three additional police positions, although Police Chief Larry D. Higgins had requested five more men. Meyer also recommended that officers be paid for holidays in lieu of time off, which if granted, would be the equivalent cost of an additional officer. He said that during later budget discussions, Higgins would present a plan for restructuring the department.

Meyer also recommended two additional employees for the library, but said the budget included no new major capital outlay requests.

Recommended budget allocations by department (with this year's budget figures in parentheses) were: city clerk, $17,867 ($17,323); finance department, $64,644 ($63,215); city attorney,

$21,232 ($21,779); city manager, $36,139 ($35,912); planning department, $43,072 ($42,312); city council, $6,745 ($5,049); retirement and insurance, $289,778 ($274,382); police, $368,392 ($379,392); fire department, $395,531 ($356,781); ambulance, $20,672 ($20,672); animal control, $15,344 ($18,732); building inspection, $40,216 ($43,937); Engineering, $100,557 ($96,981); weed abatement, $13,461 ($13,461); streets division, $202,129 ($283,774); building maintenance, $35,921 ($35,777); corporation shop, $15,280 ($15,238); recreation and parks, $118,988 ($116,307); library, $84,909 ($88,101); swimming pool maintenance, $23,831 ($23,524); recreation and instructional swimming, $16,894 ($16,874); general reserve, $20,000 ($18,470); and building abatement, $10,000 ($10,000).

Special sessions to discuss the budget will be scheduled next week with the final budget to be adopted before July 1.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

WIDENING — Awarded a contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael which submitted the low bid of $32,490 to build a box culvert and widen East Washington Street near Maria Drive.

PARK FEES — On a 4-2 vote granted the request of Caster Mobilehomes Corp. to reduce the park development fee from $60 to $20 on each mobile home at Petaluma Estates Mobile Home Park because recreational facilities are provided there for residents. Councilmen David W. Brainerd and Fred V. Mattei disagreed, saying residents of the mobile homes will still use city park facilities and should contribute through the tax.

IMPROVEMENTS — Delayed until June 21 a decision on the extent of street improvements that must be made by Norman Rollins before approval of his final map for a five lot development at Magnolia Avenue and Cherry Street.

SEWERS — Heard City Engineer David A. Young report the regional water quality control board has set a timetable for improvement of sewage treatment facilities that requires the start of construction next March and completion by No. 30, 1973.

SEWER FEE — Set a fee of $240 per thousand gallons of waste from the proposed George Barta Hide Co. plant on Lakeville Highway.

BELLS — Approved a resolution calling for residents to ring bells to celebrate the Fourth of July.

SWEEPER — Approved the purchase of a $2,363 leaf sweeper. WATER — Approved plans to extend water lines on Western Avenue from Petaluma Boulevard north to Water Street. Cost was estimated at $13,500.

MEETING — Adjourned until next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Sea Search For Missing Boaters

Coast Guard planes and cutters today were searching an 8,000-square-mile area for a Sausalito-based fishing boat missing since Friday.

The craft, the Nancy A, was reported overdue Sunday, on a trip from Sausalito to Bodega Bay. It had two persons aboard, but Coast Guard spokesmen did not know their identities. The boat's owner was listed as Willard C. Hager of Concord.

The search begun yesterday was stepped up today with the use of two Coast Guard planes, one helicopter, three cutters and a small boat from Bodega Bay, searching from Monterey to Bodega Bay, the Coast Guard said.

Today is Tuesday, June 8, the 159th day of 1971.
The moon is full. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn.
The evening star is Jupiter.
Those born on this day are under the sign of Gemini.
American architect Frank Lloyd Wright was born June 8, 1869.
On this day in history:
In 1869 Ives McGaffney of Chicago obtained a patent for a "sweeping machine," the first vacuum cleaner.
In 1928 a Schenectady, N.Y., station (WGY) began a regular schedule of television programs three times a week.
In 1965 American astronauts Ed White and Jim McDivitt completed their Gemini journey, traveling 1,609,684 miles in 62 orbits of the earth.
In 1969 President Nixon announced that 2,500 American servicemen would be withdrawn from Vietnam by Aug. 31. Also that day, actor Robert Taylor died of cancer at the age of 57.
A thought for today: Henry David Thoreau said, "There is no odor so bad as that which arises from goodness tainted."

New State Planning Office On Agenda

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Point To Remember About Leading Honor For Finesse

If you found yourself in a strange town some afternoon, you might walk up to a policeman and ask him how to play the spades in today's hand. The answer you'd get wouldn't be any worse than if you had dropped into the town's leading bridge club and asked the same question. The subject is simply one of the great mysteries of modern times. Or, at least, it was until this column appeared.

DIAMOND RUN
West won the first trick with the jack of diamonds and continued the suit. South ruffed the third diamond and now had to play the hand so as to limit the trump loss to one trick.

Since South hadn't read this column, he led the queen of spades. West was obliged to cover with the king, and dummy's ace won. Now East was sure to win two trump tricks, and South was down one.

COULD NOT GAIN
South didn't know it, of course, but he couldn't gain by leading the queen of spades. If West had the king of spades, he would play it, and South was sure to lose one spade trick no matter how favorably he distributed the missing spades. If East had the king of spades, there was certainly no advantage in leading the queen.

South could lose nothing by leading a low trump to dummy's ace. Then, if not nothing startling happened, he could return a low trump toward his own hand. The defenders would get their normal trump trick if the five missing trumps were divided 3-2.

CASE OF KING
South would gain if West had the singleton king, since then he could capture the king with dummy's ace and would still have both the queen and jack of trumps in his own hand. South would even survive if West had a low singleton provided that East had no more diamonds to lead.

The point to remember is that it doesn't pay to lead an honor for a finesse unless you're willing to have it covered — perhaps by a singleton.

Auto Tycoon Giving Up TV Hawking

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "Hi friends, I'm Ralph Williams." That greeting in a monotone voice which interrupted old movies on television in Southern California for more than 10 years will be heard for the last time Thursday.

The bald, 42-year-old 6-foot auto pitchman is going off the air.

"I've been in the retail automobile business for 16 years," Williams said Monday. "Ten years of those I've been on television. I'm tired of making television commercials every week."

Williams, who gained national exposure through Johnny Carson's comical imitations of him on the Tonight Show, was at one time the owner of five United States auto dealerships and was associated with five in Canada. He now owns only two.

Mostly because of his television salesmanship, he built an auto empire that hit an annual sales peak of nearly $75 million.

But in the last two years, charges of vehicle code violations were filed against him in California and Washington. He successfully defended himself in California but his dealership in Seattle was closed for non-payment of taxes.

He also was sued by Chrysler Corp. for about $2.5 million allegedly owed to Chrysler Credit Corp. and was displaced from five Canadian American Motors dealerships.

Asked about the estimated $15 million he spent in television advertising in the past 10 years, Williams said, "There's some other things I'd like to do in life."

Video Campaign Set To 'Unsell The War'

NEW YORK (UPI) — The television commercial will open with a shot of a gameboard, similar to Monopoly. The narrator explains the game is presented by "the people who brought you the game of Korea and the Bay of Pigs ..."

It ends with pieces being moved about the board. The narrator concludes, "... but this game is being played with real men and real lives."

The commercial is part of an advertising campaign started by Yale University students and faculty members and advertising industry executives to "unsell" the Vietnam War.

The project was conceived in March by a group of Yale students and faculty members who felt "if the Pentagon could use advertising and public relations to sell its version of the War in Indochina," antiwar sentiments could be expressed through the same media to unsell the war.

Ira Nerkin, 20, a political science student at Yale, held a news conference Monday to show some of the advertisements to be used in the "unsell" campaign. He said people in the nation's top ad agencies, and in film and printing industries, were donating time and talent. The ad agency of Larocche, McCaffrey and McCall is being used to coordinate the project.

In a letter to another agency executive, David McCall, president of Larocche, said, "Needless to say, we are not interested in cheap, superficial, anti-American work. We are interested in thoughtful and honest advertising, created by people who love their country."

Nerkin said the project is designed to encourage citizens to write their congressmen to end the war by Dec. 31.

A complete series of advertisements available will include 250 print ads, 30 television commercial and 60 radio spots.

The equator crosses almost in the center of Kenya, Africa.

Tam Trustee Hits Meeting's Trivia

The Tamalpais High School District board last night spent the bulk of its time wading through what one trustee said was "trivia we could have disposed of in five minutes."

Board president David D. Ring, disgruntled that the late-hour meeting had left no time for "important things" like district goals, criticized a large — but long since departed — audience for not sticking around.

The standing-room-only crowd of about 150 persons had jammed the Redwood High School faculty lounge to hear two issues — neither of which was acted upon by the board.

In the first case a group of about 50 Tamalpais High School students left slightly irritated after the board refused to discuss the firing of a 30-year-old English teacher.

"The board can not respond to questions in a public meeting since this will become a judicial matter," Ring told the au-

Belvedere Council Fills Vacancies

The Belvedere City Council last night filled 21 vacancies on various commissions and committees.

All the appointments are for one year except two on the city park and recreation commission which are two years.

Those appointed and the committee or commission are John R. Moore, fire commission; Edwin J. Drechsel, Willard G. Pittman and William L. Cavalli, finance committee; Merrit K. Ruddock and Allan Steinau, Association of Bay Area Governments representative; Steinau and Pittman, City-County Planning Council of Marin.

Ruddock and Pittman, Redwood Empire Division of the League of California Cities; Drechsel and Steinau, Belvedere-Tiburon Joint Drainage Committee; Jack Himmelwright and Samuel J. Mann, pedestrian-bicycle path committee; Steinau and Walter Machette, Tiburon Boulevard Realignment Committee; Thomas S. Price and David Bordon, council liaison with the environment committee; Margaret Simpson and George McCoy, park and recreation commission and Donald Davis, sanitation committee.

Guilty Plea To Assault Charge

Stella Johnson, 23, of Marin City, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Miss Johnson, who previously had pleaded innocent to the charge, is to be sentenced July 19.

She was charged with shooting Floyd Barrows of Marin City March 22.

No Actions On Budget In Fairfax

Fairfax City Council last night examined the 1971-72 budget proposal of $538,818, but took no action on any item.

Councilmen reviewed City Mgr. Robert E. Crowe's proposal at an adjourned session they termed "a dry run" look at the budget.

Action was delayed on specific items until an 11-month account of the city's revenues and expenditures could be prepared by Crowe.

At the insistence of councilmen Robert R. Souza and Frank J. O'Connell, Crowe was asked to prepare the detailed account so that councilmen can compare his proposal with the current status of each account.

Following the two-hour meeting, the council met in closed session at Crowe's request for guidance in current salary and fringe benefit negotiations with city employees.

The next budget session is set for 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

The proposed budget shows an increase of $26,947 over this year's budget of $556,871.

The record spending program called for no increase in the city tax rate of $1.74 per $100 of assessed valuation, although no salary increases are included in the budget.

Urges Death For Drug Pushers

MARSEILLE, France (UPI) — Mayor Gaston Defferre, leader of the Socialist Party in the National Assembly, today called for the death penalty for drug traffickers in France.

"When a certain number of drug pushers have been condemned and executed, it will make the others think," wrote Defferre in an article in the local newspaper Le Provençal.

Defferre, who in 1964 forced President De Gaulle into a runoff for the presidency, said he was not personally a supporter of the death penalty. "But in this case, only capital punishment can stop this fatal procession in which the modern world is involved."

End To Etna's Fireworks Seen

SANT'ALFIO, Sicily (UPI) — Mt. Etna's fireworks continued today, but scientists believe the 10,902 foot volcano is on a last spectacular toot before lapsing into silence again.

One prominent expert Monday compared Etna to a baby burping.

"I think the lava now erupting (from two fissures) is doing so because of gas pressure in the main crater," said Alfred Rittman, The Swiss born president of the International Institute of Vulcanology.

He said no expert believed the new lava endangers two farm hamlets far below on the slopes.

Larkspur City, Library Employees Win Pay Hike

The Larkspur City Council last night voted to give city and library employees across-the-board 5 per cent salary increases but decided to save some money by making the increases effective Sept. 1 instead of July 1.

Councilman Benton A. Sifford Jr. cast the sole dissenting vote, saying that he disagreed with the two-month delay.

The only employee to receive a higher raise was the public works superintendent, who was granted a 7.5 per cent increase to make his pay higher than his foreman.

The vote came after a long session spent in efforts to trim the proposed budget so that the tax rate will remain the same as this year, $1.895 per $100 assessed valuation.

At one point, City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst proposed cutting $8,000 from $12,500 set aside for drawing up a new general plan for the city.

When asked by Councilman William G. Fleckles, how a good job could be done on the plan with this cut, Bathurst suggested going into closed session so he could tell the council about a man he could hire for the $4,500.

He then said, in answer to a question from an Independent-Journal reporter, that it was a man from a certain firm that he had in mind.

At a suggestion that such a closed session would be in violation of the Ralph M. Brown Act, Mayor Earl J. O'Grady asked Bathurst to telephone the city attorney, Robert W. Elliott for advice.

Elliott, awakened at his home, reportedly said that he couldn't advise the council on the matter on the spur of the moment.

Mayor O'Grady later said,

Muir Beachers In Partial Victory On Horses Issue

Muir Beach engineer Leslie Smith will be allowed to keep two horses but not four on his one-acre property on State Highway 1 near Muir Woods Road.

Smith asked for permission to keep four horses, but this was cut to two by Ralph D. Cairns, deputy zoning administrator, after a hearing yesterday afternoon at the Civic Center. Two neighbors objected that the horses create both noise and flies.

Cairns ruled that Smith must re-arrange his corral fences so that the animals will be about 60 feet away from any residence. This rearrangement cut the size of the corral so that only two horses can be allowed, said Cairns.

The deputy zoning administrator gave Betty M. Beattie permission to keep two horses at 410 Hildale Way, Tamalpais Valley.

Athletics Vs. Red Sox; Giants Vs. Expos

A's To Open Homestand Tonight In Coliseum

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Oakland A's open a seven-game home stand tonight against the Boston Red Sox, and things couldn't be better for the American League West leaders.

As of Monday, the A's were the winningest team in baseball with a 37-18 record for a .673 percentage. They also have the winningest pitcher in baseball, Vida Blue, who clipped the Washington Senators on four hits Sunday for his 12th win of the season against two losses.

Blue's 8-1 victory over the Senators gave Oakland its sixth triumph of an eight-game road trip and its fifth consecutive win.

It was an ironic victory for Blue, who is hot on the trail for a 30-game victory year, as he beat Denny McLain, the major leagues' last 30-game winner in 1968.

The A's took the day off Monday.

Meanwhile, there were reports of a possible trade after A's owner Charles Finley conferred with Senators' owner Bob Short.

The trade reports involved the Senators' Frank Fernandez, a former A's catcher, and pitcher Casey Cox and the A's Ramon Webster, a pinchhitter-first baseman, and outfielder George Hendrick.

In tonight's contest against Boston, righthander John Odom will try to improve his 1-1 record against Ray Culp, who has a 6-4 mark.

BASEBALL EXHIBITIONISTS

Cleveland's Jack Heidemann is out at second while Cincinnati second baseman Woody Woodward relays ball to first base to complete the double play in first inning of their inter-league exhibition game at Cleveland last night. Cleveland won, 3-2, after the contest was called because of rain in the sixth inning. (UPI Telephoto)

S.F. Sends Marichal To Mound

MONTREAL (UPI) —The San Francisco Giants open a road tour tonight against the Montreal Expos after the "old man" stopped their longest losing streak in two years.

When it appeared that the National League West leaders were skidding into a disastrous losing streak, the "old man," Willie Mays, socked a home run in the bottom of the 12th inning Sunday to give the Giants a 4-3 victory over Philadelphia in the second game of a doubleheader.

Even after the short skid, the Giants still maintain an eight game lead over second place Los Angeles. They have been holding their lead with injuries to two key starters, outfielder Ken Henderson and first baseman Willie McCovey.

Henderson, who has been out with a pulled groin muscle, may be ready to start during the three-game series with the Expos, and McCovey, bothered with aching knees, could see some action, too.

The Giants, idle Monday, will send Juan Marichal, who is looking for his ninth win against two losses, to the mound against Bill Stoneman (7-3) in a battle of aces.

THAT'S CALLED SUCCESS

A happy fisherman walks down a pier in Fairhaven, Mass., carrying two lunker striped bass that made for a great day of fishing. The story on striped bass in North Marin Lagoons is a sad one, however, as the time has arrived for the annual dieoff of stripers. Fish and Game columnist Al Giddings writes about this problem, his column appearing on page 31. (UPI Telephoto)

JIM GILMARTIN

Giant Boosters In Montreal

Those swinging San Francisco Giants Boosters Club members are in Montreal today to follow their favorite athletes through nine road games in Canada, New York and Philadelphia.

Led by Allan Murray of Ross, the president and founder of the Boosters Club, the 156-person contingent includes 24 Marinites. They left by chartered plane early yesterday and will return June 17.

The Marinites include George and Donna Arndt (father and daughter), Bob, Netty and Mark Campagna, Laurene Dominic and Nick Vasilieff, all of Mill Valley; Irving and Maxine Chapman, Hugh Chiappari, Mike Dolan, Paul and Priscilla Hartman, Russ Fisher, Jack Fulton, Mary and Bob Halligan (brother and sister), Ethel Schwab and Norm and Amie Taylor, all of San Rafael; Letha Jenkins of Fairfax and Jack and Dorothy Stickney of San Anselmo.

Said Murray of his club just before departure: "We've come a long way since I started, this in 1968. There isn't a vacant seat on our charter. It was a sellout two weeks before this trip started. The reservations already have started to come in for our next trip Aug. 3-8 to St. Louis-Chicago. It's great to be with a winner but the paper work is a big headache. I'm stuck with it because nobody else is dumb enough to want to be president of the Boosters."

Murray is "dumb" like a fox —and I don't mean Charlie Fox.

HAD THERE been an award for the best-dressed threesome at Sunday's final round of the Peacock Gap Country Club's invitational golf tournament, it certainly would have gone to Josh MacDonald and his guest, George Wurzburg. With matching snappy knickers, the cutesome twosome wore striped shirts lettered with "Big Divot" (Josh) and "Little Divot" (George).

At Sunday's awards ceremonies, only one prize winner was booed. That was Stanley Fontez. Why? Because he's the Marin County tax collector.

Most ironic prize was won by Charlie Ooghe of San Rafael — a dozen golf balls. Groaned John Mangini: "Charlie's already got 400 balls in his locker. He needs another dozen like he needs another hole in his head."

Among some of the sporty sports in the classy field were Bob Feerick, general manager of the San Francisco Warriors; Turk Terzian of San Francisco, an official for the past 11 years in the National Football League; and Artie Schallack, the little former New York Yankees pitcher.

Individual low gross winner Mat Palacio Jr. of San Rafael, who at 55 now qualifies for Seniors competition, is called the "Geritol Kid" because . . . "Every night at the cocktail hour I have a couple of Geritol-over-the-rocks to help keep me up with the younger golfers."

And last Friday I told you that it would be a hot tournament. Sure enough, just as the field finished early Sunday afternoon, the hill by the entrance to Peacock Gap caught fire. They finished in a blaze of glory.

P.S. Every one who played received a bottle of Early Times. And that's when I got home, Bunkie — in the early times.

DEAN RIDER of Mill Valley, the former Tamalpais High golf whiz, was one of only two freshmen to receive a varsity golf letter at University of California this spring. What a career he's got ahead of him.

100 Turn Out For Derby Race

More than 100 spectators turned out Sunday to watch a soap box derby race held by Cub Scout Pack 5 on Broadmoor Avenue in San Anselmo.

Winner of the Class A race for cars built with official soap box wheels was Matt DeLa Montanya.

The Class B race, for cars with any other kind of wheels, was won by Rusty Clements. David Clements was second and George Choice, third.

Exterminators Win In Rec Softball

Mike Kaplar pitched a six-hitter and received solid hitting support from Ed Fink and Bill Brooks as Smith's Exterminators beat Gotelli's 6-0 last night in the San Rafael Softball League at Alhert Park.

Fink hit a two-run home run while Brooks contributed three hits.

In the second of two games, Koch's edged MacArthur's 10-9. Frank Pandiani had two hits for the winners, but the game's top hitter was MacArthur's Bob Anderson with four.

72 Golfers Make Grade In Qualifying For U.S. Open

43 More Spots To Be Filled In Play Today

By United Press International

Don Bies, Art Wall, Tom Weiskopf, Mike Souchak and Doug Sanders qualified Monday for the June 17-20 U.S. Open in Philadelphia. Dan Sikes, Dow Finsterwald, Jacky Cupit and George Knudson failed to make the grade.

A total of 72 players, led by Bies' 68-67-135 at the Atlanta Country Club, qualified for the 1971 Open at the Merion Country Club. Another 43 will earn berths in the field today after sectional qualifying rounds in Washington, St. Louis, Pinehurst, N.C., Pittsburgh and Montclair, N.J.

Most of the top names who qualified Monday earned entry in Atlanta as 39 players made the 145 cutoff. Sikes lost his bid in a six-man playoff for the last two spots. Dave Marr and Grier Jones reached the tourney proper with the two low scores in the playoff.

Lou Graham turned in a 136 at Atlanta, Dave Eichelberger carded a 138, Homero Blacas and Charles Coady shot 140's, Art Wall and Rod Fungseth made it with 141's and Weiskopf and Charles Sifford were in at 142.

Sanders tied Dave Bradbury at 143 for the low score in qualifying at Dallas as seven golfers reached the Open. Souchak, playing at the Red Run Golf Club in Royal Oak, Mich., also had a 143.

The veteran Tommy Bolt, 53-year-old former U.S. Open champion, withdrew from the Michigan qualifying round because he still was suffering the effects of a recent bout with pneumonia.

Finsterwald was not among the three who qualified at the Rolling Hills Country Club in Denver. Bill Bisdorf of Evergreen, Colo. made it with a 137, George Keyes of Phoenix qualified with a 141 and Paul Purtzer of Phoenix with a 142.

Bob Smith of Sacramento, Calif., headed seven qualifiers at Chicago with a 139. Bob Ellis of Fondulac, Wis., had a good shot at a berth with a first round 68, but faded to a 79 on the last 18 for a 147, two short of the qualifying figure.

Sam Carmichael, a golf course operator from Martinsville, Ind. showed them how it's done at the Cloverbrook Country Club in Cincinnati, Ohio, when he came through with a three-under par 139 on a 69 and 70.

Jim McLean, a 21-year-old amateur from Seattle had a 144 and John Kalinka, a 47-year-old pro from Honolulu shot a 145 for the two qualifying spots from Seattle.

Palacio, who won the State title in 1936, shot rounds of 71 and 79 yesterday for 150, only four strokes behind the medalists — teen-ager Bruce Robertson, Doug Nelson and Bob Blomberg.

Ireland had 73-80-153 while Thompson shot 79-80-159.

Another qualifier was Paul Spengler, the former Drake High School star now living in Atherton. He had 77-81-158.

IT WILL BE CERRUDO'S 1ST CHANCE IN 'OPEN'

Touring pro Ron Cerrudo of Napa, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cerrudo of San Rafael, yesterday became one of six Western Sectional qualifiers for the U.S. Open Golf Championship in competition at scenic Silverado in Napa.

Making a strong comeback from a back injury, Cerrudo shot rounds of 72 and 68 for a four under par 140, winning $200 for his effort and his first trip to the Open which will start at Pennsylvania's famed Marion Golf Club a week from Thursday.

Top qualifier at Napa yesterday was Bob Risch, 23-year-old USC graduate, with 72-66-138. Other Napa qualifiers were amateur Art McNickle, and club pros Ed Merrins, John Schamp and Tim Macy.

Ray Leach of Novato, star of the Brigham Young University golf team, failed to qualify with his score of 74-74-148.

Palacio, Two Others Pass First Hurdle

Three Marin County residents, led by 55-year-old Mat Palacio Jr. of San Rafael, yesterday earned a bid for further qualifying for the California State Amateur Golf Championships in regional qualifying at San Francisco's Olympic Club.

Joining Palacio from Marin were Bob Ireland and Dick Thompson, both of Sausalito. The trio will join 97 other Northern Californians plus 100 from Southern California to compete in the final state qualifying rounds on the Monterey Peninsula courses June 21-22.

Alvarez Improved

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Dr. Vincente Alvarez of Buena Aires, injured critically in an accident at the start of the Indianapolis 500, took a turn for the better Monday. His doctor said he was "definitely improved."

Upset Tennis Players

BRISTOL, England (UPI) — Arthur Ashe suggested a walk-out; Ismael El Shafei spoke of a vendetta against the professionals, while Marty Riessen called it plain stupid.

That is how three of 32 World Championship Tennis (WCT) professionals saw the International Federation's action in suspending some of their colleagues from tournament's under ILTF jurisdiction because of their failure to turn up for the recently concluded French Open in Paris.

Defending Wills open champion Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia, Tom Okker of The Netherlands and El Shafei were the WCT men suspended along with German independents Igo Buding, Helga Masthof-Niessen and Helga Hosl.

Ashe, from Gum Springs, Va., who is second seed in the Wills tourney, said: "The WCT players should stick together and, maybe, pull out of Wimbledon."

El Shafei, who was bounced in the first round of the Wills by South Africa's Cliff Drysdale, said: "Nobody troubled to inform me of the suspension. I heard it on the radio and then read about it in the newspapers. This is only another move in the ILTF's vendetta against us."

"Stupid, that's what the ILTF is," was Riessen's opinion as he stepped from the showers following his 6-3, 3-6, 6-3 first round win over Australia's Phil Dent. "It's foolish because the suspensions will have to be lifted once the facts come out."

As the $48,000 Wills open is a WCT circuit event, there was no problem about the participation of El Shafei, Pilic and Okker in the tournament which carries a top prize of $10,000.

Rod Laver, after a three week rest so his injured back could be ready for his challenge for the Wimbledon title, showed he was in fine fettle by taking just 37 minutes to beat fellow Australian Fred Stolle, 6-1, 6-2.

Riessen of Evanston, Ill., Charlie Pasarell of Sanurce, Puerto Rico and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., were three of five Americans to win opening round matches.

Californians Bob Lutz and Roy Barth did not finish their match with Lutz ahead 7-5 when play was called. They resume at mid-day today with the winner taking on Riessen in the second round.

Ashe, meanwhile, starts his challenge with a first rounder against Australia's OKwen Davidson; Ralston takes on Roy Emerson of Australia in the second, and Pasarell meets Drysdale.

Hunt Popular
With Expo Fans

MONTREAL — Ron Hunt, ex-Giant, ex-Dodger and ex-Met, now is an Expo and baseball's "Mr. Hustle" is as popular with Montreal fans as he was with those in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Hunt now has a zipped mouth about his trade by the Giants last January to the Expos for a minor league first baseman named Dave McDonald who was sold back to the Expos during spring training for an undisclosed sum.

But when the trade was made in January Hunt said some rough things about Horace Stoneham and Charlie Fox. Stoneham declined to answer Hunt, saying "I'm just not going to dignify his remarks." Fox said: "I can understand Ron's being upset because his pride is hurt. But I can't understand why he wants to pop off. I think that Ron had better take stock and ask himself, at age 29, why he's now been traded by three clubs."

Hunt has taken stock of himself and Expo fans have taken stock of him. They admire the feisty little second baseman who is fearless at bat, a master in the art of getting hit with pitched balls, and one of the best hit-runners in baseball with a lifetime average of .272.

So why did the Giants trade him? Or for that matter why did the Mets deal him to the Dodgers who, in turn, traded him to the Giants? Nobody faulted his aggressiveness. There is no more competitive player in the game. But Hunt's lateral moves covering second base aren't swift enough on fast infields, especially carpeted ones such as Candlestick now is. The Dodgers found that out. Their infield in Dodger Stadium is lightning fast.

Hunt will talk now about other things but not his trades. He was shocked that the Giants would deal him for a minor leaguer, subsequently sold back to the Expos. But he wasn't as hurt by it as much as his first trade by the Mets to the Dodgers. He was a hero in Shea Stadium to Met fans and very happy in his home on Long Island where all the neighbors were his friends.

When Hunt appeared in Shea Stadium in a Dodger uniform for the first time, the fans gave him a standing ovation as he walked into the batter's box.

"I still remember it," said Hunt. "I just stood there at home plate and cried. It was my biggest thrill in baseball."

There's a lot of sentimentality in the tough-guy second baseman and Expo fans already have sensed it. They stir every time Hunt steps into the batter's box. They know no pitcher is going to intimidate him. In fact, pitchers make a determined effort not to pitch inside to Hunt.

Hunt exaggerates when he says he makes a determined effort to avoid being hit by tight pitches. He does make an effort because baseball rules say that a batter must try to get out of the way of a tight pitch. But making a half-spin in the batter's box hardly can be called a "determined" effort.

Hunt already has been hit by a dozen pitches this year but he insists he isn't trying to improve on his record of 25 last season. His career hit-by-pitch total was 127 at the start of the 1971 campaign, a record. The old one of 118 was held by Frank Robinson.

Return Of Chip Oliver

OAKLAND (UPI)—Chip Oliver, the former Oakland line-backer who dropped out of football after calling the sport a "silly" game, says he wants to rejoin the Raiders.

The Raiders said Monday Oliver has asked them to consider issuing him a uniform, but that no decision has been made on the request.

"Any decision regarding players is up to coach John Madden," Oakland managing partner Al Davis said.

"Chip was an outstanding player with the Raiders, and we're always interested in anyone who can make a contribution," Davis said.

Oliver quit the Raiders last year after breaking into the starting lineup as a rookie in 1968. He joined a commune and worked in a health food restaurant.

"Football dehumanizes people," the former Southern California player said when he quit. "They've taken the players and made them into slabs of beef that can charge around and hit each other."

Great Start For Bowler In Pro Event

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—Gary Madison, an amateur from San Bernardino, Calif., competing in his first Professional Bowlers Association competition, won his final game Monday night to take first place and the $6,000 winners purse in the $50,000 bellows-Valvair Bowling Tournament.

The 31-year-old lefthander, one of 13 lefties in the 13-man final field, downed veteran Mike McGrath of El Cerrito, Calif., by a 211-200 count in their position-round clash to nail down the victory.

McGrath, the leading PBA money winner last year, with earnings of more than $51,000, had to defeat Madison by 34 pins to overtake the first-timer.

Madison, in defeating McGrath, became only the second bowler ever to win his first U.C. event—and the only other to do it was McGrath.

The loss dropped McGrath to third place as Dave Davis, Miami, a 12-time champion, came up with a final game of 276 to move into the runnerup spot. Davis earned $3,200 while McGrath took $2,500.

Jim Godman, of Lorraine, Ohio, received $2,000 for fourth place, and Earl Anthony, Tacoma, Wash., the leader when the evening session got under way, was fifth, winning $1500.

The New Zealand-Mexico series went according to the predictions of the experts. Parum was more consistent than Loyo May in the opening singles match on Saturday and gave New Zealand its first point 7-9, 6-4, 6-1 and 7-5.

Then Lara crushed Simpson 6-3, 6-3 and 6-1. Lara again, teaming with Garcia, shot Mexico into a 2-1 lead on Sunday by outlasting Parum and Simpson 3-6, 6-2, 12-10 and 6-3 in the doubles. The Mexicans have an outstanding record in Davis Cup doubles competition, winning six matches over the past three years while losing just one.

Parum tied it up at two-all on Monday when he turned back Lara 7-5, 6-3 and 6-4 in a dull match dominated by strong serves.

Then Simpson completed his role of the sacrificial lamb by losing to Loyo Mayo 6-3, 6-3 and 6-2 in the final and deciding match. Not once was Simpson able to break Loyo Mayo's service, which isn't particularly strong but which is always loaded with tricky effects.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Bucs Rout Cubs; Cards Tip Braves

By United Press International
The Pittsburgh Pirates sure know how to make a manager feel wanted.

The Pirates, who celebrated the return of manager Danny Murtaugh Sunday with a 17-hit attack, collected 15 more Monday as they routed the Chicago Cubs, 11-6, to remain a half game behind the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League East.

St. Louis rallied from behind to edge Atlanta, 7-6, in 10 innings in the only other major league game.

Murtaugh had been sidelined for nearly three weeks with chest pains but returned Sunday to watch the Pirates outslug the Houston Astros, 9-8. He was at the helm again Monday as the Pirates pounded six pitchers for 15 hits, including homers by Willie Stargell, Al Oliver and Bob Robertson.

Despite the awesome show of power over the last two days, Murtaugh was more impressed by the team's relief pitching. Bob Veale and Dave Giusti turned in 6 2-3 innings of scoreless relief against the Cubs, although Veale suffered an injured shoulder and was forced to leave the game.

"The reason we're in the race is because of our bullpen," said Murtaugh. "Giusti and Veale did the job today and Mudcat Grant is capable of doing the same thing."

Veale, who took over from starter Nelson Briles in the third and worked 2 1-3 innings before injuring his shoulder, said he doubted the injury was a muscle pull.

"I felt something tear in the back of my left shoulder, high up. It's not a muscle pull. I've had those before and it doesn't feel like that. It just hurts like hell. I'm going to talk to the club doctor and I hope it's not serious. I'm usually a fast healer so I hope there's no problem."

The Cardinals rallied from a four-run deficit to tie the score in the ninth before winning in the 10th on a run-scoring single by Ted Simmons. Matty Alou was hit by a pitched ball on a controversial call to lead off the 10th then stole second before scoring on Simmons' hit.

Two-run doubles by Ted Sizemore and Gerry McNertney in the ninth enabled the Cardinals to tie the score. Hank Aaron, Ralph Garr and Zoilo Versalles each collected four hits for the Braves.

Seals Draft Star Goalie

MONTREAL (UPI)—The California Seals have drafted the top goalie of the American Hockey League.

They picked up Gary Kurt, 24, from Cleveland for $30,000 Monday. Kurt, who stands 6-3 and weighs 185, had a 2.67 goals-against average and three shutouts in 42 games last season, lowest in the league.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

The bowler in perfect form will start the ball down from the top of the backswing while simultaneously she begins her fourth and final step. This, of course, ends in the slide with the left foot. If you hurry, you might start this step before you're ready to move the ball forward. The result will be poor timing.

Steinmark's Body Flown To Denver

DENVER (UPI)—The body of Freddie Steinmark, who was stricken with cancer at the height of his college football career in 1969 and died Sunday at the age of 22, has been flown home to Denver.

Parents of the former University of Texas athlete said they will announce funeral arrangements later today. Tentative plans called for a rosary at the Church of the Risen Christ in Denver.

Steinmark, who was hailed and admired widely because he refused to give up hope to the last days in his battle with cancer, lived for about 18 months after he helped his Texas Longhorn teammates defeat Arkansas 15-14 in 1969. The win clinched the national collegiate championship for Texas.

Shortly after the game his disease was discovered and his leg amputated in an attempt to stop it from spreading.

But the cancer reappeared, and Steinmark was readmitted to the D. Anderson Hospital in Houston April 20 for the last time.

Colorado Gov. John A. Love said he was grieved "as I am sure are many across the nation" to learn of Steinmark's death.

"His tremendous courage and his attitude—on the field and throughout his seige with cancer that finally claimed him—were an inspiration to us and a credit to this fine young man we are proud to say was a fellow Coloradan," Love said.

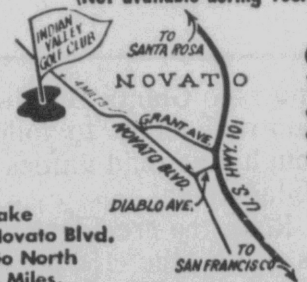

Steinmark, the son of a Denver police detective, was born in Wheat Ridge, Colo.

John Coats, his coach at Wheat Ridge High, remembered him "as possibly the best running back I ever had. Freddie was our leader and the player we couldn't afford to lose."

Texas Coach Darrell Royal said he will go to Colorado to attend the funeral "wherever or whenever it is."

"Freddie was a courageous young man, and the example he set while on the campus of the University of Texas will be a guideline for others to follow for many years," Royal said.

New Zealand Ousted In Davis Cup Play

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—New Zealand, like its neighbor Australia, also saw its Davis Cup achievements dwindle in 1971.

The New Zealanders' 3-2 loss to Mexico Saturday, Sunday and Monday was directly attributable to the absence of Brian Fairlie, who turned professional during the past year thus becoming ineligible for Davis cup competition.

With Fairlie still in the amateur ranks in 1970, New Zealand last year defeated Mexico in Mexico City, 3-2. With Fairlie gone in 1971, tall and lanky Onny Parum couldn't carry the team.

Although Parum won both of his singles, a group of average Mexicans jumped on Jeff Simpson for two singles victories and took the doubles match to amass the necessary three points.

Mexico continues in the Davis Cup against Brazil in the final of the American zone next month, while the New Zealanders left for Europe today to try their luck on the European tournament circuit.

New Zealand had eliminated the British Caribbean Commonwealth, 4-1, in Bridgetown, Barbados, while Mexico had previously eliminated South Korea, 5-0, and Canada, 3-2.

The Mexicans lack a superstar since the death of Rafael Osuna in 1969, but have a well-

Nominated, Not On Team Yet

The Independent Journal erred yesterday in announcing that pitchers Dave Judnick of Novato and Tom Olson of Marin Catholic had been selected to play in the third annual California North-South All-Star High School Baseball Game at Anaheim June 25.

The two Marin County Athletic League stars have been nominated by a committee of sportswriters, but final selections for the All-Star squad have not yet been made.

Gary Hughes of Marin Catholic already has been named to coach the North team.

TRIPLE 'S'

FISH AND GAME

More Striped Bass Dieoffs Reported

By AL GIDDINGS

Bad news! We had another series of striped bass dieoffs over the past two weeks at Bahia Lagoon and at Bel Marin Keys Lagoon in North Marin. Some dead fish have been reported in the Petaluma Slough also, but these could be the dead fish floating from these two lagoon areas, one of which connects with Petaluma Slough, and the other empties into San Pablo Bay via Novato Creek just south of the mouth of Petaluma Slough.

These die offs have plagued these areas over the past two or three years. This year's dieoff occurred on exactly the same date (May 20) as was noted last year at both areas. The dates seem to coincide with the first big series of minus tides which occur in mid May.

THE DEPARTMENT of Fish and Game has taken water samples each time there has been a die off. The general conclusions have been that this type lagoon surrounded by houses, and subject to many types of pollutions, plus the areas being very shallow during the low minus tides times, makes the area a death trap for fish!

The pollutions, the low water conditions and the warming temperatures cause a lack of oxygen in the water so needed to support fishlife. It is possible that the problem will reoccur each year. The solution isn't easy. But to lose 500 to 2,000 strippers each year is certainly a casualty, and attempts to remedy this situation should be attempted.

HOW? IF THE problem is pollution and low warm waters without enough oxygen, then this is the place to start. The people of the area should take all pains to eliminate as much pollution as possible. The lagoons should be either pumped to promote better flushing, or a second and third opening to the bay or slough to promote better tidal action should be developed.

We have had no die offs at Paradise Cay, a similar development probably because of the two inlets and outlets there. These permit a good water turnover, thus keeping the pollutions flushed. This flushing action also supplies oxygen and keeps the waters cooler and cleaner.

All new lagoon developments should include this criteria. If this isn't done, then the residents around the lagoons can expect to have the rotting car-

Instruction On Sailing For Youths

A program of sailing instruction for boys and girls 11-18 years of age, based on the tenet that a well-trained junior pilot will be a responsible racing skipper in the future, will be offered at the Sausalito Yacht Club this summer.

The classes, organized for San Francisco-Marine County youngsters in cooperation with the St. Francis and Sausalito yacht clubs, will begin July 5, and feature instruction for all classes of boat handlers, from the rank beginner to the experienced racer.

The cost of the 20 hours of instruction is $15, covering use of the clubs' El Toro class boats.

According to Bob Smith, instructor and co-instructor of the classes, "No experience is necessary for the beginner classes; only the desire to learn."

In addition to Smith, Jeff Stine, a registered Sunfish class skipper, will be in charge of the classes.

In all classes of instruction, each individual will receive 20 hours of instruction, but the time will be spread over a two-week period (two hours a day) in the morning classes, while the afternoon sessions will be four hours a day for one week.

For more information and application blanks, write Bob Smith at 2326 Ensenada Way, San Mateo, Ca. 94403.

Auto Race Tickets Available In Marin

No Vacation For This Hockey Vet

TORONTO (UPI)—At 40, George Armstrong is the prototypical hockey "veteran." After another of his several comebacks, he helped the Toronto Maple Leafs make the Stanley Cup playoffs last season.

Now that the Leafs are in mothballs for the summer, Armstrong is still playing. But not hockey. He's playing a hockey veteran in a movie, "Face-off," in which he helps a young hopeful.

NHL Begins Its Annual Meetings

MONTREAL (UPI)—Seventeen-year veteran goalie Glenn Hall was waived out of the National Hockey League Monday, the only highlight of the opening day of the annual NHL meetings.

The four-day sessions continue today with the intra-league draft, with each team protecting 18 players plus two goaltenders with leftover talent being available for $40,000 each.

Hall was waived out of the league by the St. Louis Blues during Monday's draft of players from the Western and American Hockey Leagues.

The Blues wanted Jim McLeod of the WHL Portland Buckaroos, so they were forced to part with Hall, who says he's going to retire anyway. No one picked up the veteran netminder and for the moment he was placed on the list of Denver in the WHL.

Only three other players were acquired for the $30,000 draft price on Monday. The Californian Seals took goalie Gary Kurt from Cleveland of the AHL while another netminder, Andy Brown, moved from Baltimore to Detroit. The only other player to be drafted, Irwin Spencer, moved from the AHL's new Tidewater club to the Vancouver Canucks.

Yastrzemski Heads List

NEW YORK (UPI)—Early returns from fans voting for American League all-stars put Boston Red Sox outfielder Carl Yastrzemski in the vanguard of the balloting for the 1971 mid-season classic in Detroit, July 13, it was disclosed Monday.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Brewing Industry Hits Record High

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I recently was advised to purchase a brewing industry stock and bought Anheuser-Busch. Is this a good area for investment and a suitable stock for the future? — G.K.

A. The brewing industry is presently enjoying peak consumer and financial popularity. Last year production rose to a new high of 121.6 million barrels, 4.7 per cent more than in 1969. And, industry sources predict that beer production will reach 127.5-128 million barrels in 1971. Fueling the optimism here are the reduced likelihood of strikes (fewer labor contracts are up for renewal), the improving outlook for beer prices, the expectation of a somewhat more favorable economic climate and demographic trends. In reference to the latter, it is believed that the 21-39 age group consumes nearly 70 per cent of all malt beverages; and, this group is expected to mushroom by 34 per cent between now and 1980.

Anheuser-Busch, the oldest and largest brewer, ranks number 1 in sales for the industry and has nailed down the greatest share - 180 per cent - of the market. Schlitz and Pabst, the number 2 and 3 producers, hold 12 per cent and 9 per cent respectively.

Last year, Anheuser-Busch set new records in the industry when it became the first brewing firm in the world to produce and sell more than 20 million barrels of beer in a year. Sales, and earnings also hit all-time highs, a trend which has continued into 1971.

Although beer accounts for the bulk of Anheuser's sales, the company's Yeast and Corn Products Division contributes a substantial portion of the remainder. And, of perhaps increasing importance is the firm's family entertainment business which includes the three Busch Gardens.

Company maintains a sound financial condition; and stock may be dubbed a true growth situation. If my research and arithmetic is correct, the individual who bought 100 shares of Anheuser just prior to 1938 and held, would today own 23,673 shares after splits and stock dividends. Shares are an attractive holding for long-term growth.

Lockheed: $8.3 Million In Earnings

BURBANK (BW) — Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has reported net earnings of $8.3 million, or 73 cents a share, for the first quarter ended March 28.

The total includes $8.8 million, or 33 cents a share, in extraordinary income after taxes, representing a gain that resulted from selling unimproved property.

In announcing the quarterly results following a board of directors meeting, Chairman Daniel Houghton and President Carl Kottchian said they are based on Lockheed's assumptions of successfully concluding various interrelated conditional agreements and the continued viability of the corporation.

"Both of these depend upon our attainment of long term financing arrangements with our lending banks," Houghton and Kottchian said.

"A key to this new credit agreement is a guarantee by the U.S. government of up to $250 million in additional bank loans to Lockheed."

Devans Lewy Jewelry Store Set For Fourth Street Grand Opening

Remodeling is going on at 115 Fourth Street, San Rafael, new fixtures are being installed and this store is scheduled to open next Saturday under the new name of Devans Lewy.

It will be a jewelry store as it has been for more than 10 years under Michael and Rachel Gorb, who have retired in the Chico area.

New owner is Ben Lewy of Alameda, who has operated De Beau's Jewelry and Giftware in Strawberry Town and Country village for the past two years and also has jewelry department concessions in J.C. Penney Co. stores in Hayward and Fresno and the Rhodes store in Fresno. He has been in the jewelry profession for the past 50 years.

A drawing for a diamond ring will be part of the grand opening ceremonies. Store hours will match those of other Fourth Street establishments - from about 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with Friday night openings.

TWO BLOCKS WEST, changes have been taking place from time to time at Marin Upholstery, 1321 Fourth Street, and this store bears little resemblance to what it was two years ago.

Upholstery materials have been moved to the rear or eliminated entirely, although this business still continues under the Deiters-Robinson management, done principally from sample showings.

In the front, exotic jade, turquoise and other gems and jewelry items, many handcrafted by American Indians, share space with Indian baskets, mosses, rare figurines and collectors' treasures on the shelves and counters and in the showcases. And I am told there are still more to come. Several wooden Indians will be among them.

The name Marin Upholstery continues as before, but flanked by those of Adobe Hut, Treasure Chest and American Indian Trading Post.

Stocks Fall Sharply On Exchange

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed sharply lower on moderate turnover today.

Selling was slow through most of the morning, but quickened a bit in late trading amid concern about rising interest rates and speculation that the federal reserve board, controller of the nation's monetary policy, may slow monetary growth.

The Federal Reserve's open market committee was due to vote on the money issue at its regular meeting Tuesday, but traditionally results will not be made available for 90 days.

Saul Smeling, senior vice president of Standard & Poor's, said he doesn't believe the FED is slamming the brakes on the money supply. He noted that it is only trying to avoid an up-thrust in inflation.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a loss of 0.71 at 100.43. Declines outscored advances, 972 to 423, among the 1,673 issues crossing the tape.

A volume of around 14,000,000 shares compared with 13,800,000 shared traded Monday.

Among the most active issues were F. W. Woolworth, which traded an early block of 148,600 shares.

Prices also eased in moderate trading on the American Exchange.
